(Special To The News)
AMARILLO, Tex., Sept. 24.—
Been down in the old ranch country and visited the Mashed O S, a part of the old X I T which was at one time the biggest ranch in the world. They are farming the whole plains country and making it pay without reluctance.
Well, John and Florence got married.
It was just a year ago now that they came to see the Stone show in New Haven together and I introduced them to the audience. I could see then that they were sort of keeping company.
Well, we got Lindy and Anne going along fine now and we wish John and Florence the same. We got to dig us up another love match to promote.
Yours, WILL.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Sidewalks and lawn along North Merger street are covered with a coat of white dust, due to the covering of crushed limestone which was placed on the street recently. A light coating of oil was applied, but it was not sufficient to lay the dust.

Local building contractors who have buildings under way are making plenty of hay these days. The weather is ideal for them and they are rushing things along at top speed. A great force of men is employed at the new addition to the Lawrence Auto Co., which is being built of steel and concrete.

The News is in receipt of an anonymous letter in which complaint is made about radio interference on Highland avenue by operating trolley cars on the avenue. The letter claims that power leaks in the vicinity of the 1300 block interfere with radio reception, and also that there are other sections along the street where there is serious interference. This complaint is respectfully referred to Louie Round by Pa. News, and we know that it will be investigated and if possible remedied.

Some extensive road building work is in progress in Neshaunook township. Some of the secondary roads are being slugged and washed. The road leading from the Shenango U. P. church to the Cowtown road is being built in such a manner that it will be permanently improved, it appears.

Saw a lot of fancy thermometers for sale in a downtown window. All were grouped near together and all were registering entirely different degrees. One was up as high as 125 and one down as low as 110. This was right, if any? Now tell us thermometers have to be adjusted!

Pa. News saw a tourists' automobile going thru town late yesterday. They had everything with them—even to the dog which was leaning precariously out of the window, and the bird in its cage hung from the ceiling of the car. Everything with them, except the goat. But if you would ask the husband and driver, perhaps he would agree the goat was along, too!

The street department is due for more congratulations. Yesterday work on resurfacing East street between East North and Sycamore way was started. That stretch has long been in need of repair and any improvement will be welcomed by New Castle motorists.

Pittsburgh & Lake Erie freight officials here say that business is good. Coal is being hauled to a great extent at the present time while merchant vessels are being loaded.

Former President's Wedding Gift To Son Reported $50,000

Large Sum Also Settled On Bride By Her Father,
Governor Trumbull
Honeymooners On Secret Wedding Trip—John Has Short Vacation

PLAINVILLE, Conn., Sept. 24.—
When Florence Trumbull and John Coolidge, newlyweds, return from their honeymoon they will find $50,000 awaiting them, the gift of Calvin Coolidge, father of the bridegroom.

A close friend of the Trumbull family disclosed to International News Service today that the former President had established a trust fund for the amount as a present to the bride couple.

While specific details were unavailable, it is understood that within a certain number of years, the principal will be at the disposal of John.
Bride To Get Large Sum
And in time with this gift from the Coolidge side of the latest romantic liaison, Governor John H.
Trumbull, father of the bride, was reported as planning to settle a large sum on his daughter.

Looking economic square in the face, nobody has ever imagined that a Connecticut heiress and the son of a former President, both reared in comparative comfort, could subsist on a thirty-odd dollars a week. This is the stipend that John is earning as a clerk in the offices of the New York
New Haven and Hartford railroad in New Haven. However, it is said that a raise in salary is to be given him on his return to duty.

On Honeymoon
Today the question of dollars and cents is far from the minds of the honeymoon couple who are "somewhere in America." With a state trooper as chauffeur, Florence and John weathered a storm of festive confetti and rice to speed away from the colorful wedding reception on the emerald green lawn of the Trumbull estate. At Hartford, the honeymooners changed to Florence's red roadster. Friends expect that the pair will motor through New England.

Three Former Coal And Iron Police On Trial For Alleged Brutal Death
Of Borkowski

JURY SELECTED MONDAY AFTERNOON

Commonwealth Asks For Verdict Of Murder In First Degree For Three Officers

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24.—The taking of testimony started today in the murder trial of three former coal and iron policemen, charged with beating John Borkowski, Tyre miner, to death near McDonald, Pa., last February 10.

One woman and 11 men were selected for the jury by 5:40 yesterday afternoon. Following the rejection of the first 15 and the examination of 90 more before defense and prosecution attorneys were satisfied.

Borkowski, a part-timer miner,
died in the Sewickley Valley hospital, Sewickley, from shock and hemorrhage following lacerations and concussions of the head and face and fractures of the ribs and sternum, hospital reports state. "The injuries are alleged to have been inflicted by W.
J. Lester, 28; Harold Watts, 34, and Frank Szapiski, 31, who at the time were employed by the Pittsburgh Coal Company as coal and iron police.

Postponed Previously
The case, being heard before Judge James H. Gray in criminal court, was first set for trial last June 10, but was postponed on petition of Defense Attorneys C. B. Pritchard and E. C.
Coll, on their contention that because of the aroused public sentiment against the defendants a fair trial would be unlikely.

The Commonwealth, represented by Assistant District Attorney Roy T.
Clunk, will ask for a verdict of murder in the first degree, with a recommendation of the death penalty.

The defendants have entered a plea of not guilty.
The jury, selected yesterday, is composed of:

Some Of Washington's Social Problems Solved; Mrs. Gann Not In City

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—
Some of Washington's social problems, incident to the visit of Prime Minister MacDonald next month have been removed—one of them by Mrs. "Dolly" Gann, half-sister and hostess to Vice President Curtis, herself.
Mrs. Gann, now visiting in Topeka, Kas., her home, will not return to the capital until after MacDonald has been here and gone, according to messages from Topeka received in Washington.
Where to place Mrs. Gann at functions in MacDonald's honor despite the action of the diplomati-cians several months ago giving corps several months ago, giving her second place to Mrs. Hoover, has puzzled the arbiters of such things.
Where to place Miss Eshel MacDonald, her father's housekeeper at home and companion while abroad, has been settled by the Detroit people, the British-ers' last word in official etiquette.
Debreit says neither the wife nor daughter of a high state official is accorded the rank of the husband or father. So that settled for Washington society what to do.

Two Girls Missing, Philadelphia Police Start Active Hunts

Strangely Vanishes

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24.—The mysterious disappearance of two young girls, one of them a wealthy Montclair, N. J., girl who vanished while passing through the city, confronted police today. Seven girls in all have been reported missing here in the past fortnight.

The New Jersey girl, Mary G.
Wentworth, 16, a former student at the Northfield, Mass., seminary, shopped here with her foster mother, Mrs.
Carrie Wentworth, to see the history spots of the city. They were enroute to Daytona Beach, Fla.

The girl left her mother for a moment at the Central Post Office to post a letter. She has not been seen since. Meanwhile the anxious foster-mother is remaining in this city while police seek the girl on the theory she was abducted.

At first Mrs. Wentworth thought the girl had been confused but would return to her hotel. As the hours lengthened she grew sick from worry and is now under a physician's care.

Fearing that the publicity might "spoil" her daughter's life, Mrs. Timothy Boldurina, failed to report the disappearance of her daughter, Marie, a 14-year old student of the Woodrow Wilson High school. Marie disappeared on her way to school on September 16th.

British Prime Minister Sails
Friday For Visit To United States

By ROBERT W. THOMPSON,

LONDON, Sept. 24.—One "social conference," at which the American envoy will probably do nothing more than ask to be remembered to the folks back home, will be held between Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald and Ambassador Charles G. Dawes before the former sails for the United States.

It was learned today for the present, Premier MacDonald and Dawes have completed their negotiations looking toward a world disarmament conference and that their next meeting to be held between now and sailing time will be a purely personal one.

Before the premier sails he is expected to issue a formal invitation to France, Italy and Japan to join with Great Britain and America in a five power disarmament conference scheduled to be held in London the third week in January.
Original plans for Britain and America to issue the invitations jointly have been abandoned and Premier MacDonald will take care of the matter himself, through the medium of the British ambassadors in the capitals of the three nations which are being solicited to participate in the parley.

Colonel Lindbergh And Wife Rest In Preparation For Start Of Next Long Flight

MANY MILES YET TO BE COVERED

Without Incident Famous Flying "We" Land At Paramaibo; Caribbean Tour Next

(International News Service)
MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 24.—With his trail-blazing tropic mail flight completed, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was resting today at Paramaibo, Dutch Guiana, in preparation for a start tomorrow on another trip which will describe a long circle over the Western Caribbean country.

According to word received here by officials of the Pan-American Airways, for whom Col. Lindbergh's flight was made, the flying Colonel, his wife and companions on the routine flight were being feted today by municipal authorities of Paramaibo. Both Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh are understood to be in excellent physical condition in spite of their long air voyage, but are anxious to make today as much of a "day of rest" as possible in order that they may be fit for the journey that lies before them.

Resume Flight Wednesday
Present plans call for the Lind-berghs to take off early tomorrow on their return to Port of Spain, Trinidad. From that point, the Colonel will start on his long circle over the Caribbean territory. Eight days will be spent resting and sightseeing at Cristobal, Panama Canal Zone, before the air voyagers return to Miami, on October 10.

Completing the long Southern flight with the same unflinching regularity which has characterized each hop of the voyage, the Lindbergh plane arrived at Paramaibo at 4:30 p. m. yesterday, according to advices here. The trip took Col. Lindbergh and his party over a new route which will form an extension of the territory served in the Pan-American railways.

Alleged Slayer Suicide Victim

Kalamazoo Man Held In Death Of Woman Ends
Life In Jail Cell
By Hanging

(International News Service)
KALAMAZOO, Mich., Sept. 24.— Eugene Burgess, 52, awaiting trial for the "witch murder" of Mrs. Etta Paimchild, hanged himself early today in his cell at the county jail here.

Burgess and his wife, Pearl, were charged jointly with killing Mrs.
Fairchild, an aged clergyman's widow.
The two admitted the slaying, asserting that the widow had an "evil eye" and that she had cast a spell over the 17-year-old daughter, Eugenie.

The slaying occurred about a month ago, at the Burgess home here. Mrs.
Fairchild had been invited there for dinner and Burgess came up behind her and struck the aged woman with a hammer, according to his own confession.

The body was wrapped in a rug, weighted down, and thrown into a cin-ter at the rear of the home. It was recovered shortly afterwards by police who had been anonymously informed of the crime.

Rotarians Hear Speakers Discuss Power Project And Slippery Rock Beauty

Thomas Liggett Speaks In Behalf Of Conservation Of Scenic Beauty

William Butler Presents View Of Those Seeking Power Rights

Arguments for and against the granting of power rights on the Slippery Rock creek were heard by the members of the New Castle Rotary Club Monday at noon, when the club held its weekly luncheon meeting in The Castleton. William Butler who has been interested in the hydroelectric development of the creek for many years, gave his reasons why the rights should be granted, and Thomas Liggett, well-known conservationist of Pittsburgh, spoke against the granting of the rights. Senator George W.
Weingartner spoke in rebuttal at the close of Mr. Butler's argument. Mr.
Liggett being the first speaker.

In opening his argument Mr. Liggett said: "First, let me contradict the impression that seems to be abroad in this matter of the ruin of the Slippery Rock creek, that the aggra-vation against it emanates here. It does not. I am the sponsor of the movement and I have found intense manifest as far as Erie."

Preservation of Beauty Important
"The preservation of such beauty as we have on the Slippery Rock creek is far more important than all the power plants you can build on it.
My remuneration for the fight against the granting of the power rights is exactly the same as my remuneration was in the preservation of Cooks Forest. In that project I put my time and my money, solely with a view to saving the beauty spot for coming generations.

"I have lived in western Pennsylvania and by proxy for 12 years, and I do not wish to see such a foreign power coming in and destroying our beauty spots. I spent time and money in the Cooks Forest project because of the stockholders we have in the boys and the girls of the state. After all, it isn't how much I leave when I leave this world, but what have I left for coming generations."

Reduction For Income Taxes Now In Sight

SECRETARY MELLON APPROVES SLICING

In Short Time Tax Experts Will Start Preparing Treasury Plan For Reduction

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Another substantial slash in federal income taxes at the December Congress, to be effective March 15, appeared in sight today.

From sources close to Secretary Mellon, it was learned that the treasury would agree to a "substantial cut" which may run from $200,000-000 to $300,000,000.

To Prepare Plan
Within a week tax experts will begin the preparation of the treasury's plan for income tax reduction for the approval of Secretary Mellon. Today they declined to say where the reductions would be applied. It is anticipated, however, that the maximum net income on which earned income credit is allowed would be given special attention, looking to an increase.

In the 1928 revenue act this maximum was boosted from $20,000 to $30-000, but strong pressure has been brought to bear for placing the figure still higher and broadening the scope as fixed in the 1928 income tax law.
If taxes can be reduced by $200,000-000 it will mean that since 1921 the burden of federal assessment on the American taxpayer will have been reduced by $2,026,000,000. The 1921 act cut the tax $663,000,000; that of 1924, $519,000,000; 1925, $422,000,000, and 1928, $222,000,000.

at 11:20 a. m., this morning at his trial for the murder of his "butterfly" bride, Dorothy, they whom he strangled on their first wedding anniver-

The 22-year-old radio expert was naturally attired in a black suit and black bow tie. His black hair was neatly slicked up. He sat forward in the witness stand, nervously gripping his hands, and his dark face bore his characteristic pout.

Huge Crowd
A huge audience of men, women and young girls packed the courtroom to the doors.

Peacock testified the first met Dor-in 1927.

"I was accidental," the defendant testified. "The pool was full of girls.
One of them fell into the water and I pulled her out."

By Defense Attorney Sidney A.

Q. And she was Dorothy?
A. Yes.

Peacock said Dorothy was his "first girl. He had not gone around with other girls.

Object To Testimony
The court sustained objections to a

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Miller Hug-

good night and today has a fighting chance for his life.

His physicians announced this afternoon that the fight between the illness and the man's strength is today. "If he continues to rest com-

Messages of sympathy and con-

cities and towns all over the country and from all kinds of people. The gist of many was, "What else you know how to fight on the field and you'll be O. K. soon."

Arthur Mometer

The news in summer appeal to me and the creek with their "summit holes" and the beach attracts with its booming surf, where the singing nest birds roll. But the sport in fall that is keen to me, without any ends and this, is running the woods on a crazy dog, looking for history nuts.
There's a carpet of moss that clings near feet, and the squirrels race through the trees, and the beggar tree seem to be in wait and pick on your ankles and knees. There are fences to cross that are tricky ones, and now and again a dog, and a yellow gets stunned as he trips, perchance, on some half hidden, unseen log. But the sport is there, and the sport is seen, and the trees sometimes play on tricks, but the fun of finding a shell back tree, is enough, weather's

OPENING LUNCHEON FOR CIRCLE OF '91

Covers were laid for 34 members of the Circle of '91 when they enjoyed their opening meeting of the fall season in the Highland United Presbyterian church, Monday, in the form of a 1 o'clock luncheon. The tables were beautifully decorated with heliotrope flowers, the club color.

Arrangements were in charge of the committee, composed of Mrs. Harry Dunlap, Mrs. John Gardner, and Mrs. W. V. Fielding.

Miss Rebecca Bowden, the retiring president, gave an address of welcome, and introduced the new president, Mrs. W. H. Gillespie, who responded in a pleasing manner.

In honor of the 38th anniversary of the circle, Mrs. Harry Dunlap, dressed in the symbolic heliotrope, gave a complete history of their activities and achievements, since their organization. Mrs. Dunlap named a number of the charter members, which included, Mrs. James Boyles, Mrs. A. McBride, Miss Mary Agnew, Miss Ella McBurney, Mrs. Margaret McFate Pacher, Miss Elizabeth Davidson, Mrs. Iva Davidson Bendel, Mrs. J. A. Blair, Miss Abbott, and Mrs. Harry.

A short business session followed the program.

The next meeting of the club in two weeks, will be with Mrs. Harry Dunlap, Leasure avenue.

Hervath-Mancino Wedding.

Of interest to many was the wedding Monday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Joseph's church of Miss Anna V. Hervath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hervath of Wilson avenue and Peter C. Mancino, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Mancino of South Mercer street.

The Rev. Fr. A. J. Weisenberger, pastor of St. Joseph's church officiated at the solemn high nuptial mass and marriage ceremony.

The bride wore a white dress and veil and carried white roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was Miss Sue Hervath, a sister of the bride. She was attired in blue and carried a Dresden bouquet. Ralph Pagley was best man.

Following the ceremony which was attended by members of the immediate families and two special guests, Father Edmunds, professor of chemistry at St. Vincent's college, Beatty, Pa., and Father Cramer, chaplain of the New Castle hospital, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents.

Following the wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Mancino left on a two week wedding tour to New York and points east. On their return they will be at home to their friends at 1316 Wilmington avenue.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Mancino are widely known and have a wide circle of friends. The groom is pathologist at the New Castle hospital where he has been located for many years. The bride is a graduate nurse and was connected with the nursing staff of the Carnegie Steel plant for some time past.

Surprise Shower

A surprise shower was given in honor of the bride elect, Miss Emilia Filigenzi, by her sister, Miss Mary Filigenzi, who will be maid of honor at the wedding. Fifty guests were present and the honor guest was presented with many lovely gifts.

The following guests were present: Florence Bordonari, Margaret Traubner, Anna Spelich, Rosie Nocera, Catherine Miscimari, Celia Cincotti, Nancy Garzon, Rosie Gebbia, Mary Rozzi, Rosie Rubin, Mary Mancino, Nancy Blundo, Jennie Spelich, Mary Maschiani, Clara Rozzi, Catherine Spelich, Helen Bordonari, Amelia Filigenzi, Mildred Spelich, Mary Bordonari, Ellen Rubin, Louisa Filigenzi, Antonietta DiLorenzo and Mary Isabella. Special guests were, Mary Riccioli, of Ellwood City, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cavaliere.

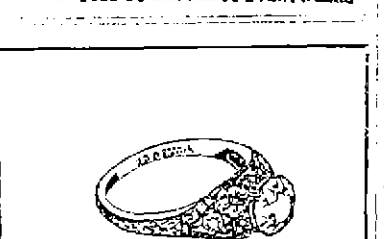

Angelo Filigenzi entertained the guests with violin solos, accompanied by Rosie Nocera, at the piano. Later, refreshments were served by the hostess, Miss Mary Filigenzi, assisted by Miss Florence Bordonari. Dancing, games and singing were pastimes.

You are not fair to your jewels if you permit them to lie in an old forgotten jewel box because they are old-fashioned. Think for example what platinum or white gold will do for those diamonds of yours! See us about resetting. We shall be glad to suggest designs which will give your old jewels a fashionable new dress.

Legion To Seek Hospitalization For Mentally Ill

Over 7,000 Veterans Now Cared For In Other Than Government Hospitals

STATE HOSPITALS ALSO OVERCROWDED

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent of New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 24.—Information furnished by the U. S. Veterans' bureau to the American Legion, which is working in conjunction with bureau and state authorities to determine the acute need of additional hospitalization for mentally ill veterans of the World war, shows that there are 20,378 veterans as of January 1, 1929, hospitalized for such disability. Of these, 18,393 are World war veterans, 1,371 are Spanish-American war, 515 are Civil war and 283 fought in other wars.

Of the total number, 7,217 veterans are hospitalized in institutions "not authorized by the veterans' bureau". In other words, this number are not given the care and treatment intended for them by congress in government hospitals. Of the 7,217, World war veterans number 5,543.

Will Petition Congress.

Under the World war veterans' act of 1924 as amended, in section 202, paragraph 13, all veterans of this class are eligible for care in government hospitals but there is no room for them. Congress failed at the session ending last March 4 to provide additional beds, and the Legion has announced it will endeavor to obtain the needed legislation at the coming regular session of congress.

"It is not known at the present time the type of legislation which congress proposes enacting relative to the 202 (10) class of beneficiaries," the statement says. "If future legislation provides that these 202 (10) ex-service men must be hospitalized by the bureau, then it will become necessary for the bureau to increase its present hospital facilities."

The bureau realizes that it would be an impossible task to canvass all of these 5,543 World war veterans to ascertain whether or not they would be willing to accept transfer to government facilities if they were available. The state institutions where they are now hospitalized are badly overcrowded, however, in nearly every instance.

Facilities Inadequate.

At the present time there are inadequate facilities for the hospitalization of even service-connected cases due to the fact that the bureau hospitals are treating a large number of non-service cases, according to the statement.

The director of the veterans' bureau on May 27, acting under the provision of section 202, paragraph 10, authorized regional managers to give available bed priority to non-service-connected mental cases if hospital treatment were more urgent than needed by similar service connected cases. At the same time he warned the regional managers not to create an artificial bed vacancy in government hospitals by transferring the present government hospitalized service connected cases to contract hospitals to cause bed vacancy for the 202-10, or non-service connected, cases.

A free land is one in which the people are consulted about all their affairs—except such trifles as going to war.

Like the old necktie racket, plenty of people send the dollar in, believing that their acceptance of them through the mail, constitutes a liability to accept them. Nothing of the sort. If you get a package of these cards, throw them aside. You don't have to pay for them. Neither do you have to return them. And if the sender wants you to return them, wait until he sends postage.

The cards are worth about half of what you are asked to pay for them, and you can get twice as many for the same money from your dealer right here in New Castle.

One of the things you will see little of this year will be sweet cider, according to one of the friends of this column who resides out in the great open spaces. The apple crop this year is about forty per cent normal, and apples that would ordinarily draw second place will have a front position this year.

And probably, if cider gets to costing about ten cents a small glass, it will suddenly achieve popularity as a drink. Get it for twenty cents a gallon and its just so and so. Folks are that way.

Louis B. Round Will Pay Tribute To Thomas A. Edison Wednesday

At the annual fathers and sons banquet to be held Wednesday evening in the guild room of Trinity Episcopal church under the auspices of the Men's club, Louis B. Round, manager of the New Castle district of the Pennsylvania Power company of the Penn-Ohio system, will be the speaker of the evening.

His subject on this occasion will be "Light's Golden Jubilee" and will be in the nature of a tribute to the genius of modern times, who made possible the electric light of the present day—Thomas A. Edison.

Indications are that there will be a good attendance of fathers and sons, also special guests at this event.

Miss Ritchie Takes Fine College Position

Miss Cora Ritchie, former general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. of this city, also prominent in welfare work of this community for many years past, left Saturday evening for Evansville, Ind., where she has accepted a position on the teaching staff of the National Kindergarten college, of which institution she is a graduate.

In connection with her work as an instructor in that institution, recognized as one of the best in the education of those taking up kindergarten work, she will take a post graduate course.

The many friends of Miss Ritchie, who has long been recognized as one of the city's leading welfare workers, will be pleased to learn of her opportunity to do a more advanced work than in the past.

Young Mother Is Killed In Crash

FRANKLIN, Pa., Sept. 24.—Mrs. Lyman B. Rhoades, 20, of Buffalo, N. Y., met death when the car which her brother, Joseph Beason, was driving ran into a ditch near Enterprise.

The machine had attempted to pass another car two miles from Pleasantville, swerved to one side and overturned.

Mrs. Rhoades' neck was broken. The six-weeks-old baby she held was unhurt. Beason was cut and bruised and his wife injured about the shoulder. Coroner J. W. Osenider, investigating, said an inquest was unnecessary.

ROAMING

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

This one happened over on Grant street. A good looking car drove up, piloted by a good looking young lady. She dismounted and ordered the tank filled up.

As she stood there listening to the gas gurgle into the tank, she was seized with a yen for a cigarette. And she had to have one right there. Standing directly over the intake valve with the gas fumes coming in clouds, the sweet young thing lit the match and proceeded to light up.

Horrified, the gas man mentioned as casually as he could, "lady you shouldn't smoke that cigarette." And to his surprise a perfectly frigid voice replied, "are you a dean of women?"

Appearances are sometimes deceiving. Saw a bunch of rowdies down on their knees last night, on the sidewalk of South Mercer street. Cocking an attentive ear I expected to hear admonitions to "Little Phoebe" to behave, and for "Eighteen from Decatur" to make it possible to buy baby a pair of new shoes.

Wasn't a crap game at all. The youngsters were fishing down a grate. On the bottom was an automobile key and visions of rewards apparently urged the lads to try recovering the key.

With Christmas coming on at the rate of twenty-four hours every day, the usual Christmas eyes are beginning to make their appearance. One of them is the card racket. You receive a nicely bound package of cards from some big hearted Benny in Oscalloosa of Roaring Gulch, and a letter telling you that you have been selected from a preferred list, to receive a box of cards, for which they will take only one dollar from you.

Like the old necktie racket, plenty of people send the dollar in, believing that their acceptance of them through the mail, constitutes a liability to accept them. Nothing of the sort. If you get a package of these cards, throw them aside. You don't have to pay for them. Neither do you have to return them. And if the sender wants you to return them, wait until he sends postage.

The Old Sock is out of Date! AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

That ancient prejudice which hoarded gold with the fanatical zeal of the miser has vanished. Under the sheltering wing of AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE flourish thousands of banking institutions to which the individual safely entrusts his wealth.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful, corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's toasted"

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300° Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan. "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

Cashier Is Jailed After Confessing Shortage Of Funds

Herbert R. Smith Of Slippery Rock Bank Short $35,000, Is Alleged

SLIPPERY ROCK, Sept. 24.—Confessing to embezzlement of funds of the Citizens National bank of Slippery Rock, Herbert R. Smith, aged 50, cashier since its organization twenty-two years ago, was arrested and placed in the Butler county jail to await a hearing before United States Commissioner Roger Knox in Pittsburgh.

Charges were brought by a national bank examiner, following a periodic inspection of the bank's affairs. The alleged defalcations are estimated at approximately $35,000.

Chief National Bank Examiner William Taylor, of Cleveland, who is in charge of the Citizens National, stated that the sale of the bank's affairs guarantees depositors no loss.

Smith was arrested by state police at the request of U. S. District Attorney John D. Meyer at Pittsburgh after Taylor had reported him that the affairs of the bank were involved.

Smith was taken to the state police barracks at Butler pending removal to Pittsburgh for a hearing before a U. S. commissioner.

Consolidated

Announcement was made Monday of the merger of the Citizens National bank with the First National bank of Slippery Rock, which was made effective on the same date. The consolidation of the two institutions was unanimously approved by the directors of both banks.

Depositors in the Citizens are fully protected against loss. It was stated by John A. Allen, cashier of the First National.

When confronted with the charges Smith is alleged to have admitted the shortages and gave to the bank examiner a signed confession concerning manipulation of notes and other acts. It is said he lost the money in investments in coal properties.

The accused cashier was covered by a surety bond of $25,000, and has already turned over all his property in an effort to make partial restitution, bank officials said.

Smith is married and has a family. Citizens started in 1907.

The Citizens had about $400,000 in deposits with about 400 depositors. The bank was started in 1907. W. A. Humphrey of Slippery Rock, is president, and C. R. Humphrey, vice president.

dent. The capital, surplus and profits of the Citizens, totaling about $70,000, have been taken over by the First National.

The First National, with which the Citizens has been merged, was made a national bank in 1902, having been established fifteen years previously as a private bank.

Bo-Broadway

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Three years ago J. Fred Coots the song writer lost his job. To complicate matters little Patricia was dropped by the stork into Freddie's room and bath. Broadway chafers. The gang on the Lane went to his assistance and their good fellowship so inspired him that he sat down and wrote the song that brought fame and fortune. "A Precious Thing Called Love." The other day he took his second degree in the Noble Order of Fatherhood. And the magnificent home in Larchmont that J. Fred Coots, Jr., opened his eyes upon is in marked contrast to the little furnished apartment off Broadway, where Patricia first saw the light of day.

GEORGE COHAN'S RINGS.
The two high diamond rings that George Cohan wears in his role as the prosperous gambler in "Gabbling" are not part of his make-up. They belong to George's father and mother and he always wears them.

WHO THEY ARE.
It required the combined mental equipment of Al Fuller and Jack Nelson to invent, embroider and tack a few riddles on "Remote Control," the radio thriller, one of the hits of the current Broadway season.

Al Fuller is a Chicago newspaper man who disintegrated by becoming a theatrical press agent and then keyed by a desire to see just how far down the ladder he could get grabbed off a desk labeled "Public Relations Counsel" in the radio station at a Chicago hotel. Jack Nelson's accomplice was one of the pioneer radio announcers of the midwest before becoming radio director of a large advertising agency.

ONE ABOUT JESS WILLARD.
According to Eddie Sullivan, Mayor Walker entirely missed Dempsey's knockout of Firpo because Jess Willard, writing the fight for a newspaper syndicate jumped up in excitement and blocked the mayor's view. Sir James punched him in the back so hard he sprained his wrist and Willard never even felt the blow.

MOVIES ARE WRONG.
When you see the city room of a newspaper on the stage or in the movies, with a flock of reporters racing around like a lot of Japanese dancing mice don't believe it. The average newspaper reporter is a firm believer in mental and physical calm. The best one of the tribe I ever knew spent most of his working hours in a sitting posture. When he wasn't playing solitaire with a pack of cards so greasy that no one but him could distinguish the spots on the cards he was yelling for the "copy" boy. The only time he ever arose from his kitchen chair voluntarily was when someone came along and invited him out to have a drink.

SUBWAY SCENE.
A young woman with eyes like Smyrna rasins and a figure too perfect to discuss entered a Broadway subway train at Times Square. A young man across the aisle who looked something like the King of Spain caught sight of the damsel and perceptibly straightened up. Their eyes met and he elevated his left brow ever so slightly whereupon her glance dropped demurely toward her ankles. His eyes followed. There was a marked protuberance beneath the chiffon hose. Through the sheer material he caught the glint of gold links circling her ankle. Dangling from the chain was a little gold ball. The young man rose dejectedly and left the train at the next station.

AGE STRIKES OFF SHACKLES.
The Old Uns are striking off the Victorian shackles. Within the last week in New York a 63-year-old woman has sued her 72-year-old husband for separation charging infidelity. A man aged 78 sought divorce from a woman he promised to love, honor and buy doughnuts for 32 years ago and another couple whose ages total 147 years have become involved in litigation over their life savings of $76,000.

If this sort of thing keeps up flaming Youth in self defense will have to go out and salvage the inhibitions it tossed into the alley some years ago.

Sinclair Bitter Toward Mitchell
Harry F. Sinclair Refused Parole On Advice Of Attorney General

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate serving a term in the District Jail for contempt of court because he hired the Bureau Detective Agency to shadow the jury in his Teapot Dome Oil trial, based his appeal for Executive clemency on the record of the case and not on ill health.

the jail. Sinclair called on Attorney General Mitchell to make public affidavits which accompanied his application.

President Hoover denied Sinclair's appeal last week on the advice of the attorney general.

Sinclair said his health was "as good as could be expected under the circumstances, and that jury shadowing 'only became contempt of court when I engaged in it.'"

He summoned up Mitchell's adverse recommendation to mean "that I should remain in jail because I was acquitted of an alleged offense for which he feels I should have been convicted."

"I am imprisoned," Sinclair said, "not for having committed any crime defined by law, not for having violated any rule theretofore established by the court, but because I caused a jury that was trying me for an alleged conspiracy against the government, to be kept under surveillance. For this I was judged in contempt."

"No member of the jury was approached by operatives in my employ nor were they molested in any way nor were they even conscious that they were being observed and they so testified."

DR. DAWDLER TO THE RESCUE
Dawdler the Dude certainly had good manners. Nobody could deny that. He bowed low to Chipper. "Delighted to meet you, I'm sure," said the Bee to the crickets. "Tell me, sir, do you live in these parts?" "Yes, I live in the old family homestead in the corner of that rock!" Chipper was not to be outdone in politeness as he answered Dawdler's question. "I would invite you and the boy here to come on over, but I know wife is putting the babies to sleep and we would only disturb them. The cradles are right by the door so the little ones can get all the fresh air and sunshine. Nothing like air and sunshine to keep folks in good condition!" "Quite right!" declared Dawdler. "I am a doctor, and I guess I ought to know."

No sooner had Dawdler spoken than a shrill cry sounded from behind the rock.

"Chipper, Chipper, come quickly. Fiddler has thrown his wing out of place and I can do nothing with it. Run for a doctor, quick, quick, quick!" "Perhaps I can help!" buzzed Dawdler, and cocking his hat at a more rakish angle, and giving his cane a jauntier swing—as was his custom when he was excited—off set Dawdler, Peter at his side, following in the footsteps of the frantic father of the wounded little cricket.

They found the poor little thing squirming with pain. Dawdler bent over him and with a quick jerk pulled the wing to the small cricket's side with a soft cord of grass he sent Peter to fetch. And Dr. Dawdler was very quick and very gentle. There wasn't any doubt at all but that he knew his business.

The gratitude of those crickets was a pleasant thing to see. Fiddler actually hopped for joy, and Mr. and Mrs. Cricket looked upon the bee as a savior in field and forest. And, judging from what he had seen, Peter was near to agreeing with them.

Missing Securities Hunted By Officers

All But $50,000 Worth Of Half Million In Securities In Strange Case Recovered

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—All but $50,000 worth of the $512,000 in securities and bonds which disappeared while in the trust of a 17-year old messenger were restored to their owners today, while police continued their investigation into the case.

Last Friday Milton Alter, messenger for R. V. Hiscoc and Company, brokers, reported he had parted with his half-million dollar bundle to a mysterious individual who gave him one dollar in exchange and promised him a lot more.

Last night, Alfred Fontana, a mail collector, dug into a parcel box and fished out a neatly-wrapped package without any address or identifying marks. It was found to contain $412,000 worth of the stolen bonds.

Detectives expressed the opinion the man to whom Alter is alleged to have confessed handing the securities, placed the package in the mail box after a futile attempt to sell them.

Gas Dealers Suit Hearing October 14

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Sept. 24.—Suit of the Pennsylvania Gasoline Vendors association against the state revenue department, complaining against requirements for bonding retail gasoline agencies as collectors of the state gasoline tax had been continued today to October 14.

Victor Braddock attorney for the complainants was granted his request for a postponement in Dauphin county court.

The case previously had been continued after the state modified its bonding requirements giving greater leeway to retailers. Braddock said more time was necessary for preparation of the plaintiff's case.

Would Restrict Opium Dealings

(International News Service) GENEVA, Sept. 24.—Restriction of the manufacture and distribution of opium was put up directly to each country engaging in those activities by the League of Nations today.

The assembly adopted a resolution, based upon the principle that each country in which opium goes through the process of legal manufacture should control its fabrication for the purpose of suppressing illicit traffic.

At the suggestion of the British proposals were adopted for a conference of the countries where opium is manufactured.

Signor Cazzoni of Italy declared that the presence of the United States in such a conference is essential.

EDENBURG NEWS

RECEPTION

The members and friends of the M. E. church tendered Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Barlett and son, Arthur, a public reception at the Sunday evening church service.

The church was beautifully decorated with flowers and a banner of welcome. W. A. Hofmeister presided in his usual happy manner in presenting the following program:

Prayer—Rev. W. H. Fenton.

Vocal Solo—Miss Stella Hess.

Remarks by L. O. Cover, chairman of piglet committee.

Vocal Solo—Miss Roberta Sedgwick.

Remarks by Mrs. C. R. Bonnett, member of Estimating committee.

Piano trio—The Misses Dorothy Bonnett, Olive Wigton and Freda Raub.

The address of the evening was given by Rev. W. H. Fenton of New Castle and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

Rev. Barlett responded in well chosen words. The church was well filled with interested smiling folks.

At the close of the service all marched to the front to give the glad hand of welcome to the pastor and his family on their return for the fifth year.

Davis Against Saloon's Return

Secretary Of Labor Expresses Forceful Convictions On Prohibition

MEADVILLE, Pa., Sept. 24.—Secretary of Labor James J. Davis delivered an address before the students of Allegheny College Monday which is considered by many as making his candidacy for governor a virtual certainty.

He referred to President Hoover as "the hardest working and most brilliant executive in the world today."

The president, he said, is striving to bring the people out of poverty, and also to bring about lasting peace throughout the world.

Against Restoring Saloon.

"All my life I have been strictly for temperance. I joined temperance organizations as a youth and have been strong for them all through life. I was reared in the rolling mills sections of this state and as one who has spent all of his life amongst workers, I can say that I have never been and never will be for anything other than that which is best for temperance."

"I am dead set against the saloon and against any move to try to bring it back to this country. One who has been brought up amongst the working people of our community could not take any other stand. I am for the strict enforcement of the law and this includes the eighteenth amendment; and any other laws that will advance the cause of temperance."

Every little while one sees a report of an accident caused by a bee getting into the automobile. Why doesn't some accessory dealer bring out a bee swat-ter?

9 out of 10 screen stars use it to keep their skin soft and smooth

Jeannette Loff, charming Pathé star, says: "No matter what climate my pictures take me to, or how hard the water, I have found that Lux Toilet Soap keeps my skin enviably smooth."

"I am utterly enthusiastic about Lux Toilet Soap," says pretty Mary Nolan, Universal star. "Even the most expensive French soaps have not kept my skin so beautifully smooth."

REALLY exquisite skin does win hearts—Hollywood knows how surely it wins them!

"If a girl wants popularity she must have a lovely smooth skin," says William K. Howard, Pathé director. "Without rare beauty of skin a screen star can never hope to win her public, no matter what else she may have."

Nine out of ten screen stars use Lux Toilet Soap. You have only to look at Jeannette Loff's skin, or Mary Nolan's, or Nancy Carroll's, to see how exquisite this delicately fragrant white soap keeps the skin. Small wonder that every one of the great film studios has made Lux Toilet Soap the official soap in all dressing rooms!

You'll love it yourself—its generous lather is so caressing, and leaves your skin so velvety. Use it in your bath, too—and for the shampoo, as the screen stars do.

Wowan Walks Into Side Of Automobile

Accident Occurs On East North Street; Other Auto Mishaps

G. A. Rowland of 222 1/2 Atlantic avenue, reported to the police Monday evening that he was driving east on East North street at Apple alley, when Mrs. Stella Kosciuch of 33 West Miller avenue, in crossing from the north to the south side of East North street, walked into the side of his machine.

She was not knocked to the ground and stated at the time that she believed her left leg was skinned up but declined the services of a physician, which Mr. Rowland suggested to her.

Later it was reported to the police that Mrs. Kosciuch had gone to a physician and found that both legs were injured to some extent.

Other Accidents
Matthew Honkunen of 744 Chestnut street, reported Monday that he was going west on East Washington street, when the light at Mill street turned red. He tried to put on his brakes, as machines were already going north on Mill street and then turned to the left to avoid a collision and his machine hit the corner of the Chocolate Shop building, damaging the marble of the building and his machine.

Andy Barlett of 312 South Jefferson street, reported that he was driving a machine on a learner's permit with Andy Ferro, Bank street, a licensed operator with him. At West Madison avenue and North Liberty street, his machine was in a collision with a car bearing Pennsylvania license A97-440. Some damage was done.

Police Official Severely Wounded

(International News Service)
WILKES-BARRE, Sept. 24.—Thos. Krosky, assistant chief of police of Luzerne county, was shot and severely wounded today while he and two fellow officers were chasing a burglar who had entered two homes.

The intruder escaped. Krosky was rushed to the general hospital where it was found that a bullet entered his right eye. Attack and police reported his chances of recovery were slight.

Mrs. Kramer is a charter member of the auxiliary unit at Madison.

Saturday For Freshmen Stunts

Program For Annual Frolic Is Now Being Arranged

Saturday morning will be observed as freshman stunt day at Westminster according to announcement by the Upper Class committee. Stunt day replaces the old class fights between freshmen and sophomores and gives both the co-eds and the men of the yearling class an opportunity to cavort for the amusement of the others.

Each fraternity group is taking charge of a number of freshmen to drill them in some skit or stunt to be performed. A number of side shows some take-offs on popular novels, and some original hits at college customs and faculty manners will be included in the program.

There will be no classes following the 9 o'clock period Saturday morning. All students and faculty members who have not started for New York to see the opening football game with Fordham will have the privilege of judging the ingenuity and cleverness of this year's yearling outfit.

Senator Caraway Scores Farm Board

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The Federal Farm board was charged with disregarding the mandate of Congress in carrying out the $500,000,000 farm relief act, during the Senate Agricultural committee's investigation into qualifications of members of the board today.

Senator Caraway (D) of Arkansas, made the accusation during questioning of Alexander Legge, who resigned a $100,000 job as president of the International Harvester company to head the board.

Silk Mill Workers Vote Not To Strike

(International News Service)
ELIZABETHTON, Tenn., Sept. 24.—A second walk-out of employees of the American Bemberg and American Glanzstoff giant rayon plants appeared further away today when officials announced that a vote among the employees showed an overwhelming majority opposed to striking.

The vote, it was said, was taken between shifts early today, and preceded a proposed secret union vote. The union was to have called a strike vote at a meeting last night, but the matter was delayed temporarily.

Of the 3,876 votes cast, only 168 were for strike.

TRANSFER PRISONERS

FIRST OF NEW COOLIDGE FAMILY

Central Press telephoto of Mr. and Mrs. John Coolidge snapped just after their wedding ceremony at Plainville, Conn., which united two of New England's most distinguished families. Mrs. Coolidge, the former Florence Trumbull, daughter of Connecticut's governor, promised to "love and honor" the son of the former president, but not to obey him.

Young Farmer Is Being Tried On Serious Charge

Case Of Mac M. Sweetland Of Near Wampum Is Before Mixed Jury

Mac M. Sweetland, a farmer of near Wampum, is on trial today before Judge Hildebrand on a charge of adultery. Mr. Sweetland has a wife and two children who were with him in court. The testimony showed that in October, 1922, Gladys Dindinger, a pretty young lady who lives near Wampum, had been employed in the Sweetland home, assisting Mrs. Sweetland with the household duties. When Miss Dindinger appeared in court to testify against Sweetland she was carrying a baby for which she testified Sweetland was responsible. Sweetland denies the charge and called a number of witnesses who testified as to his good reputation. It is also claimed that Miss Dindinger had always borne a good reputation. The case is being tried before a mixed jury, consisting of five women and seven men.

John And Florence Are Halted For Burning Up Highway At Fifty Per

Motorcycle Officer In Connecticut Halts Famous Pair On Way To Reception

Both Were Unaware That Officer Was Following Them; They Reveal Identity

International News Service Staff Correspondent
Copyright, 1929, International News Service
PLAINVILLE, Conn., Sept. 24.—The course of love runs smoothly even at fifty miles an hour.

Florence Trumbull and John Coolidge, today's most famous lovers, nearly were pinched. The episode added extra gaiety to the festive arrangements for the wedding of the pair Monday afternoon.

Florence and John were in the private automobile of Governor John H. Trumbull en route to a reception at the Shuttle Meadow Country Club in New Britain Sunday evening. John was driving and Florence was sitting (close) next to him in the front seat. Lovers are not expected to see other things on the eve of their wedding. So nobody noticed that Motorcycle Policeman Peter Cabelus was pursuing them. Cabelus had seen the machine speeding at fifty miles an hour on the outskirts of New Britain. He honked and chased and chased and honked.

Identity Revealed
Finally, after a half-mile he caught up.

"Where do you think you're going—to a fire?" inquired Cabelus.

"I really didn't know we were going so fast," exclaimed John displaying surprise.

"Didn't you know it?" Cabelus suggested to Florence.

"I didn't know we were going so fast, either," smiled Florence. Everybody kept looking surprised but Cabelus.

"Where's your license, young fellow?" asked Cabelus of John. John showed him his license. Now Cabelus looked surprised. "Are you the ex-President's son?" he inquired.

"Yep," said young Coolidge. Then Cabelus recognized Florence. He grinned.

Employment Calls Not So Numerous

Calls for employment at the New Castle Y. M. C. A. have been few this month according to the general secretary, Robert L. Meermans. Before that time numerous appeals for work were received and employment was found in many cases.

A notice asking for boring mill hands on heavy work has just reached the local Y. M. C. A. as has one for machinists. Employment apparently is not scarce for but few calls have been received from those seeking work of late.

Father And Son Meet After 12 Years

SHARPTOWN, Md., Sept. 24.—James H. Van Pelt had as his guest recently his son, Henry Van Pelt of Long Island, N. Y. whom he had not seen or heard from in 12 years.

When he was 14 years old, Henry's mother died and he made his home with his grandmother and father and son lost sight of each other but had been trying many years to locate each other.

The son learned that his father was a retired member of the New York fire department and at this office he found that a pension check was being sent to his father at Sharptown Md. He arranged to come here to see him. He saw his father on the street at Sharptown and at once recognized him but the father did not know the son until he made himself known.

Senator Blease Hurls Charge Of Huge Dope Ring

South Carolina Senator Says Four Narcotic Dens Are Located Near White House

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Four narcotic dens, furnishing opium and other drugs to habitues, flourish beneath the shadow of the capitol's dome, Senator Blease (D.) of South Carolina charged in the senate Monday afternoon.

Blease said the four dens were located "within two squares of the peace monument on Pennsylvania avenue." The peace monument is located at the foot of the capitol grounds.

"This information is known to the people whose duty it is to stop that traffic," Blease added.

Senator Hefflin (D.) of Alabama, followed Blease to charge that the prohibition law wasn't being enforced in Washington or other large cities. He said the authorities failed to make a real effort at enforcement.

Unidentified Man Ground To Death By Trolley Car

(International News Service.)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24.—While hundreds of downtown pedestrians looked up helplessly and unidentified man was ground to death beneath the wheels of a street car here Monday afternoon. The body was so badly mangled that it was necessary to raise the car to extricate the remains.

Conflicting stories were told by witnesses, though many agreed that the man had dived beneath the car. Motorman J. H. McCoy, who was turned over to the coroner said he did not realize an accident had occurred until he heard witnesses scream a futile warning.

Young Woman Is Racing In Plane To Dying Brother

(International News Service.)
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Sept. 24.—Winging its way eastward across the continent in a race with death, the record-holding plane bearing Miss Teresa Bartle, bound for Niagara Falls, was reported near here early today.

Miss Bartle is racing to the bedside of her brother who is reported dying. She received the reports of his illness while visiting in Montecito, Cal., and flew to Glendale intending to board a passenger air liner for the east.

Arriving too late to make connections, she chartered Capt. Roscoe Turner's record-holding transcontinental airplane which is capable of a 198-mile an hour speed.

Turner planned to refuel here and then leave on a non-stop flight to Chicago.

Millions Die Of Kidney Disease; Thousands Have It Right Now And Never Suspect It.

The good and wise plan to always keep the kidneys healthy and free from poisonous matter that leads to kidney disease, dropsy and other serious disorders is to take a few doses of Thompson's Barosma every three months.

It is a harmless remedy put up in liquid form, is quickly assimilated and gets to the sick kidneys at once. If your kidneys are weak, inflamed or clogged up, Thompson's Barosma will put them in shape again. If they are not diseased, Thompson's Barosma will tone up your system anyway. All drug stores sell Thompson's Barosma for $1 a bottle on money back plan if it fails to relieve backache, sideache, sharp shooting pains and kidney, liver or bladder disease. In conjunction with Barosma always take Golden Lax Tablets (25c and 50c) when constipation is present. For sale at all drug stores.

GRANDMOTHER'S BREAD is time controlled—that accounts for its constant *FRESHNESS

Grandmother's Bread is light, moist and fresh. That's the only way it is allowed to cross the counter of your A&P Store. Time Controlled handling assures freshness. All A&P bread is baked in our own Bakery conveniently located to your Local Store. It is delivered to your store frequently and in small quantities, fresh from the bakery ovens. No delays, no extra handlings permit it to surrender its ovenwarm freshness before it reaches you.

Spring and winter wheat flours are blended to produce a cream white flour of rare quality. This is mixed with rich milk, pure shortening, yeast, salt, and sugar in the same proportions at every baking, producing the same even texture, the same delicious medium brown crust. Consistently good, consistently fresh, . . . it measures up to the bread ideals in thousands of families.

Grandmother's Bread is baked in two sizes. Select the size that will serve as the day's supply for your household. Come back for a new loaf fresh from the bakery tomorrow.

You'll find other delicious breads in the A&P bread family. Each is baked and delivered to your A&P Store with the same standards of purity and freshness that control Grandmother's Bread. Dairy Maid Bread is a rich tasty "twin loaf" with a thin golden brown crust. Wholewheat Raisin Loaf is just what its name implies—and fresh! White raisin bread, Vienna and Rye bread, are in the list of these fresh A&P breads from which you may choose each day.

The new A&P Time-Control Plan makes doubly sure that your loaf is fresh when you get it. Buy Grandmother's Bread today. It will add to your confidence in A&P quality.

Brothers Near 88 Claim Twin Record

Farmers All Their Lives Except For Army Service In Civil War

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 24.—Louis R. Wilson, Halsey, Ore., farmer, and his brother, Rufus Wilson, Watke, Ia., who are believed to be the oldest living twins in the United States, will celebrate their eighty-eighth birthday in October.

In Des Moines, in 1923, the Wilson brothers were presented at the national convention of the Grand Army of the Republic as the oldest living twin veterans. As youths of 20 they enlisted in the Seventy-eighth Illinois Infantry and served together until mustered out three years later. They marched with Sherman from Atlanta to the sea.

After the war the two migrated from Illinois to Iowa, where Louis R. Wilson remained until 1935, when he came to Oregon and settled at Halsey. He has lived on the same farm for 45 years. He and Mrs. Wilson have been married 63 years.

The Wilson twins had not met for 20 years when they came together for a visit at Halsey during the Lewis and Clark Exposition in 1905. Since then they have seen each other often. They have not met since the Des Moines reunion three years ago.

Born in Illinois in 1841, both men have spent all of their lives on farms, except for the years that they gave the Government during the civil war.

J. LEE CLARKE

J. Lee Clarke, well known young man of this city, who has been connected with the Dunlap Shop, one of the largest clothing stores in Cincinnati, O., for the past two and one-half years, has returned to this city and is now associated with VanFleet & Eakin, well known Washington street clothing and men's furnishing goods store.

With his broad experience in the clothing and men's furnishing goods, both here and more recently in Cincinnati, it is anticipated that he will be of great benefit to his friends and others, he may come in contact with. He will be pleased at all times to meet with his old friends and make new ones.

Mr. Clarke was a former student and graduate of the New Castle high school and also a former member of the high school football squad. He later attended Bethany college, before taking up his present business of clothing and men's furnishing goods salesman.

Liquor Shipment Is Seized In New York

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Eight hundred bottles of choice liquors were reported found aboard the French liner De Grasse today by United States customs inspectors.

The contraband, which was valued at $5,000, was about to be lowered to small boats at the liner's side when the seizure was made, the customs men declared.

The master of the De Grasse will be expected to appear at the law division of the customs house some time today to explain the incident.

List Of 200 Awaits Poorhouse Opening

Men And Women Clamor To Gain Entrance To Oklahoma Institution

NEWKIRK, Okla., Sept. 24.—"Over the hill to the poorhouse."

That's a journey nobody wants to take, although it has furnished material for poets, dramatists, painters—even movie producers.

To thousands of penniless, homeless ones who have been forced through circumstances to make such a journey, the grave would be more acceptable—but that is all changed now in Kay county, Okla., of which this city is the county seat. Today 200 names are on the waiting list, men and women clamoring for places as guests of the first new $50,000 county farm home just nearing completion on a rolling hillside three miles east of this city.

The new building is made possible through oil tax money, the structure itself costing $30,000 and as much more to equip it. It will have dormitories, private rooms with bath, a fine dining hall and every convenience of a modern resort hotel. There will be a music hall, a player piano, a chef who can prepare the finest foods, a private hospital and the inmates will be given only such odd tasks about the grounds as they may desire to keep them occupied, for which they will receive small sums weekly as spending money. The 22 inmates of the old home will be preferred customers and first on the guest list for the new institution.

Poor Muskrat Season Means $400,000 Loss To Texas Ranchmen

Impenetrable Swamp Houses Million-Dollar Fur Industry
In Southwest

ORANGE, Tex., Sept. 24.—If the trapping season had been up to standard, a total of more than $500,000 should have been realized from the sale of furs from the Orange-Cameron Land Company's 200,000-acre muskrat ranch, situated in Louisiana, just across the Sabine river from here. As it was, the total revenue for the season was only a little more than $100,000.

This muskrat ranch is an almost impenetrable swamp. At a cost of $1,000,000 H. J. L. Stark and his associates have improved the property until it is in many respects the most highly developed fur-producing ranch in the United States. An extensive system of narrow canals has been dredged through the swamp and at several spots camps for trappers have been built. These camps are of a permanent nature and are equipped with modern conveniences that are not usually found in such remote regions. There is but one entrance to the swamp ranch, and that is by way of the main canal. At this point armed guards are kept; constantly employed to prevent poachers from entering upon the property.

Boulder Dam May Be Built Higher

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Secretary Wilbur said on Monday the reclamation bureau had been instructed to study plans of Boulder Dam with a view to building the dam 25 feet higher than was first planned. Commissioner Meade of the reclamation service has been instructed to give careful consideration to factors of safety, power, additional flood control and possibly of prolonging the life of the project, if the structure is given the additional height.

ACCUSED YOUTH BEGINS TESTIMONY IN MURDER TRIAL

engagement ring and also a wedding ring?

A. I did.
Q. When were you married?
A. April 21, 1928. A week later we went to her mother's home to live. Peacock spoke with a deep, low voice. He lost his nervousness under the suave, considerate questioning of his attorney.

Tells Of Quarrel

Peacock told of a quarrel he had with Dorothy in July last year. "Our natures were different," explained the defendant. "I liked to stay at home and she liked to go out to parties. Besides I was working many nights. So complications arose."

Q. What were those complications?
A. She came home late, about one o'clock in the morning, and I told her I did not like it. Dolly told me if I did not like it I could do what I wanted about it. Her mother had gone away on a visit at the time.

"Dolly" told him she was "tired of this make believe marriage," the witness said. She also said that in her mother's presence, and the mother, Mrs. Adelaide Henselmann, said if they could not get along she guessed they had better part.

Reason For Quarrel

Q.—Had there been any other reason for your quarrel?

A.—Yes, I told "Dolly" she was entirely too intimate with Eugene Bussey. I knew she had written to Gene. I told her I objected to Gene saying in a letter it was all right for him to love her and for her to care for him "so long as I did not know about it."

Bussey, former student of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, and Peacock had been close friends. Peacock said he had known Bussey for nine or ten years, had obtained a radio position for him and brought Bussey to his home last June and introduced him to "Dolly."

Another young man, Roy Nelson, was also writing to "Dolly," Peacock said. The witness declared he told his wife to "stop writing" to Nelson.

When he and "Dolly" parted he went to New York and got a room. Later he wanted "Dolly" to become reconciled and get an apartment and live alone. She did not want to. She was then living with her mother.

Q.—Had your feelings toward Dorothy changed in any way?

A.—No, I still loved her.

Reconciliation Effected

Finally a reconciliation was effected and he and "Dolly" went to live together. Meanwhile he had been holding a night and a day job.

They lived together only about 10 days, Peacock said. On January 16 he found a note from her saying she was leaving him, for good. They had quarreled the night before.

Q.—Why?

A.—She had come home at 2:30 in the morning. She said she had been with her father. I did not believe that. "Don't bother me, I'm tired. I want to go to sleep," she said. I told her I did not think she would go out that way. I quoted "Caesar's wife should be beyond reproach" and she laughed at me.

Next morning "Dolly" tore his picture up. Then he tore her photograph in half.

During their quarrel Peacock told "Dolly" he had found six letters from Bussey.

"I had telephoned Bussey in Baltimore and told him to stay away from my wife," the witness said.

Peacock said he told his wife she "hurt his feelings," and she laughed and said: "If you don't like it, make the best of it."

The witness said that "Dolly" slept on the floor that night.

"I finally picked her up and put her to bed. I sat in a chair the rest of the night."

Court was adjourned with Peacock on the stand. Peacock had made a very good impression. He had told a coherent story and apparently was a good witness for himself. There was nothing defiant about him. On the contrary, there was an indefinable sadness in his low, vibrant voice as he testified.

Mother Testifies

COURT HOUSE, WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Mrs. Catherine Peacock, mother of Earle G. Peacock, who is on trial for the murder of his 20-year-old wife "Dolly," took the stand as a defense witness today. She is a stolid, heavily built woman of about 50, her gray hair showing beneath a black felt hat. She had kissed her son when she came into the courtroom this morning and she regarded him affectionately through her spectacles as she took her place in the witness chair.

The first witness today was Allen A. Runyon, coal dealer, who testified Peacock's reputation prior to the crime was "good."

Witness Backs Down

Captain George Groste of the 126th battalion, National Guard, gave similar testimony. Peacock is still a member of the National Guard.

"Do you consider a man who tied a cord around his wife's neck a man of good reputation?" District Attorney Frank H. Coyne asked on cross-examination.

"No," was the reply.

Dr. John A. Pritchard presented records showing an uncle of Peacock, George Roof, had been an inmate of the asylum.

Dr. Martin Astrup of the Willard state insane hospital, presented records showing an aunt, Maria Peacock, was committed to that asylum.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 24.—Dr. John M. Patterson, a star witness for the commonwealth in the trial of the three former Coal and Iron policemen for the bending to death of John Borkowski, a miner, failed, on the witness stand today, to identify any of the defendants as Borkowski's assailants.

Wounds, alleged to have been received at the hands of the defendants, Walter J. Lysler, Harold Wulfs and Frank Shupick, caused the death of Borkowski last February 10, hospital records say.

At the coroner's inquest it was Dr. Patterson who testified of the beating Borkowski received at the Coal Company's barracks.

Injury Combination

Preceding Dr. Patterson's testimony
Dr. Theodore R. Holmbold testified that "a combination of injuries caused Borkowski's death" when defense attorneys tried to establish which particular wound was fatal.

Dr. Holmbold testified that the injuries included fractured ribs, lacerations of the head, bruise burns of the body, face, neck, hands, arms and legs, and a punctured lung. At the request of Roy T. Glunk, prosecuting attorney, Holmbold pointed out on Glunk's body the spots corresponding to the location of the injuries received by Borkowski.

Harry T. Evans, deputy coroner, was the first witness called to the stand. He identified a revolver, a poker, an empty whiskey bottle, a blackjack, a pocket knife and a pair of knucklers which he said were introduced at the coroner's inquest. The prosecution is said to plan the identification of the poker and revolver as two of the weapons used in the alleged assault by the defendants.

Prosecutor Glunk in his opening address to the jury asked that a verdict of murder in the first degree be returned against the former coal and iron police, with a recommendation of the death penalty.

Sophie Borkowski, widow of the miner-farmer, is expected to be called to the stand today with testimony to bear out the allegation that the defendants beat her husband outside of her mother's home at Santiago and that he was taken to the barracks at Imperial, where further beatings were administered, so that he died seven hours later.

Indian Has Fought
Under Five Flags

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 24.—A soldier of fortune, William G. Mc-Lish, mess sergeant at Brooks Field, San Antonio, has served under five flags in the last 31 years.

At 10 he fought with Roosevelt's Rough Riders at Santiago. Later he took part in a Honduras revolution fought pirates in the Indian Ocean and served in the world war under three Governments.

McLish, a full-blooded Chickasaw Indian, first joined the French Foreign Legion. He was gassed, and later joined the British navy. With the Canadian army he went back to France, was wounded, recovered and enlisted in Uncle Sam's army in 1918.

Stamp Collections

STUBENVILLE, O., Sept. 24.—Two of the most remarkable philatelic collections in the country are the property of C. A. Vowinkel, of this city.

One of them, said to be the largest of its kind in the United States, is composed of more than 2000 covers, with the different styles of postmarks used in Ohio between 1800 and 1860.

The other, which won an award at a recent exhibition of the Pittsburgh Philatelic Society, is a collection of Ohio letters, posted between 1800 and 1855, before stamps came into general use. The letters were folded and sealed to form their own envelopes. After the postmark was affixed the postage —to be paid by the addressee—was ware avenue reported Monday that their machines were in collision as the former was driving into the driveway of his home. The Elder car was damaged to some extent.

J. A. Tamm of Youngstown, O., reported today that his machine hit and damaged a car bearing Pennsylvania license 879-157 which was parked in the rear yard of the McCleary home at 408 East Division street.

Dewey Glass, 823 Lathrop street, reported that his machine and that came together at North and North Mill streets. Both were damaged.

Monument To Slave Days Still Stands In County

Ten-Sided House On Youngstown Road Was Once "Underground Railway" Station

Many Fugitive Slaves Enroute To Canada Were Concealed In Odd-Shaped House

One of the chief grievances of the South against the North was the existence of the "underground railway" which carried fugitive slaves to freedom in the North. In the days before the Civil War there were certain routes by which negro slaves made their way to freedom. The secret means of aiding escaping slaves was known as the "underground railway."

The round brick house on the New Castle-Youngstown road was built 80 years ago by William W. Walker and was one of a chain of stations of this "railroad," which extended from the Southern states all the way to Canada.

At intervals of about 15 or 20 miles apart along the routes were stations, usually private homes, in the garrets or cellars of which, or in nearby caves or haymows, the fugitives were kept until taken from their hiding places and taken in covered-over wagons or on some occasions by foot, to the next station, where they would be hidden during the next day.

Fully 25,000 negroes were given aid in obtaining their freedom in 25 years. Since helping slaves was against the law in northern states as well as in the South the work of these northern sympathizers was a great sacrifice to themselves. Hope of advancement in public achievements must be given up and they were liable to a heavy fine if discovered. But, in spite of the dangers, the "agents," "station keepers" and "conductors" carried on the work for many years.

Built in 1849

The "Underground Railroad" was one of the chief grievances of the South against the North. William W. Walker built the two-story brick house in 1849, 16 years before the Civil War. It has since then passed through many hands and is now owned by F. I. Phillips, who occupies it at the present time.

Mr. Walker was an original and many-sided in his character as his two-decked house. Beside being a decided abolitionist, he was interested in many subjects in advance of his time. Religiously he was an independent thinker. He studied science and astrology and was a political leader in this vicinity.

Mr. Walker's real reason for building this structure of peculiar shape has never been known. His joking remark, "So the devil can't get me cornered," was the only answer he gave to curious questioners.

Being an abolitionist in those days required unusual bravery and self-sacrifice. Mr. Walker possessed these qualities. The house stands as a monument to his sturdy character and his sterling qualities.

PULASKI

Mrs. Robert Stowe and Mrs. Laura Wilson entertained the members of the Aid Society of the Methodist church at the home of Mrs. Stowe on Friday evening. The business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Charles Simpson. The following officers were elected: president, Mrs. Charles Simpson; vice president, Mrs. J. R. Meek; secretary, Mrs. Francis Taylor; treasurer, Mrs. H. K. Gilliland. Following the business period a social time was enjoyed and a very delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Shirley Mae Stowe. Mrs. E. L. Ayers and Mrs. Ralph Ayers will entertain the aid in October.

A meeting of the official board of the Methodist Sunday school was held on Sunday morning following. Sunday school, with the superintendent, J. R. Meek, in charge, and the following officers elected: superintendent, J. R. Meek; assistant superintendent, Charles Wick; secretary, Miss

Remarriage Reunites Family Of 5 Scattered By Divorce Years Ago

ROCKVILLE, Md., Sept. 24.—The marriage here of Mrs. Rachel Virginia Brady and Frank P. Martin both of Ballston, Va., paved the way according to the officiating minister, Rev. Bertram M. Osgood of the Baptist church for a happy reunion of a little family.

The couple so the minister was informed were previously husband and wife and are the parents of three children. A divorce decree scattered the quiet but the remarriage of the parents they told the clergyman will bring them together again in their Virginia home.

Pie Eating Contest Is Urged By Court

POND DU LAC, Wis., Sept. 24.—Trial by combat—1929 version—was offered the principals in a municipal court case here recently by Judge H. K. Fellenz.

Edward Bauer, Campbellport, appeared on a warrant charging assault and battery. The alleged assault according to Bauer's story resulted from a squabble about some blueberry pies. Bauer had agreed to furnish for a pie eating contest at a cow testing association picnic.

The association officials Bauer claimed refused to accept the pies when the crowd proved too small for a successful contest and Bauer admitted he "might" have pulled somebody's necktie in the argument that followed.

Declaring that there appeared to be ground for a hearing on the charge Judge Fellenz offered to have two juries in court on the day set and to allow the complaining witness designated in the complaint as a man named law and the defendant "fight it out" in gustatorial combat.

So far the offer has not been accepted although it was supplemented by an offer from the sheriff's department to supervise the "trial" at the county fair next week.

Destinies Of Business Influenced By Women

The hand that rocks the cradle influences the destiny of many a manufacturer. At least the destiny of those manufacturers who are engaged in making articles either for use in the home or for the family's personal use.

Women are the guiding power in the purchase of 95 per cent of the furniture and musical instruments sold in America. Eighty-three per cent of the clothing for the family. Sixty-one per cent of the haberdashery for men and 90 per cent of the automobiles. It is estimated that 84 per cent of the women who drive the family car have the final word in deciding even the kind of gasoline the car should have.

Rev. Duffey of the Enon Christian church has given up his charge here and gone to his home in Beaver. Sabbath school and communion services will be held as usual each Sunday morning until another minister can be found to take the charge.

The Happy Circle class of the Christian church held a meeting in the church basement on Wednesday, September 18. A social time, games and lunch were enjoyed after the regular business meeting.

The ladies of the Cannelton Union church gave their play for the benefit of the Willing Workers society of the Enon Presbyterian church in the L. O. O. F. hall Tuesday evening. A full house was in attendance and a good sum netted.

Robert Coblenz, Jr., of New Castle visited relatives here Sunday.

A NOTABLE ACHIEVEMENT. The brilliant new Magazine issued as the regular section of the SUNDAY EDITION OF THE WORLD is the most beautiful magazine ever distributed as a supplement to any great newspaper. Printed in a combination of THE WORLD'S color-tinted process (exclusive in New York) and monochrome gravure, it strikes an entirely new note in newspaper supplements. There's action in every page of this brand new Sunday Magazine. Its fiction has all the drama—all the adventure—all the romance that knowing readers expect in the country's greatest periodicals. This new Sunday Magazine means thousands of new readers for THE SUNDAY WORLD. To be sure of a copy tell your newsdealer in advance NEXT SUNDAY you want THE WORLD.

News Of The World As Told In Pictures

As Wedding United Two Of New England's Noted Families

Central Press telephoto of the principals in the Coolidge-Trumbull wedding ceremony at Plainville, Conn., which united two of the most noted families of New England. Left to right are Governor and Mrs. John H. Trumbull of Connecticut, parents of the bride Mr. and Mrs. John Coolidge and the former President and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge. Photo rushed by airplane and telephoto to Central Press.

Arab Revolt Seething

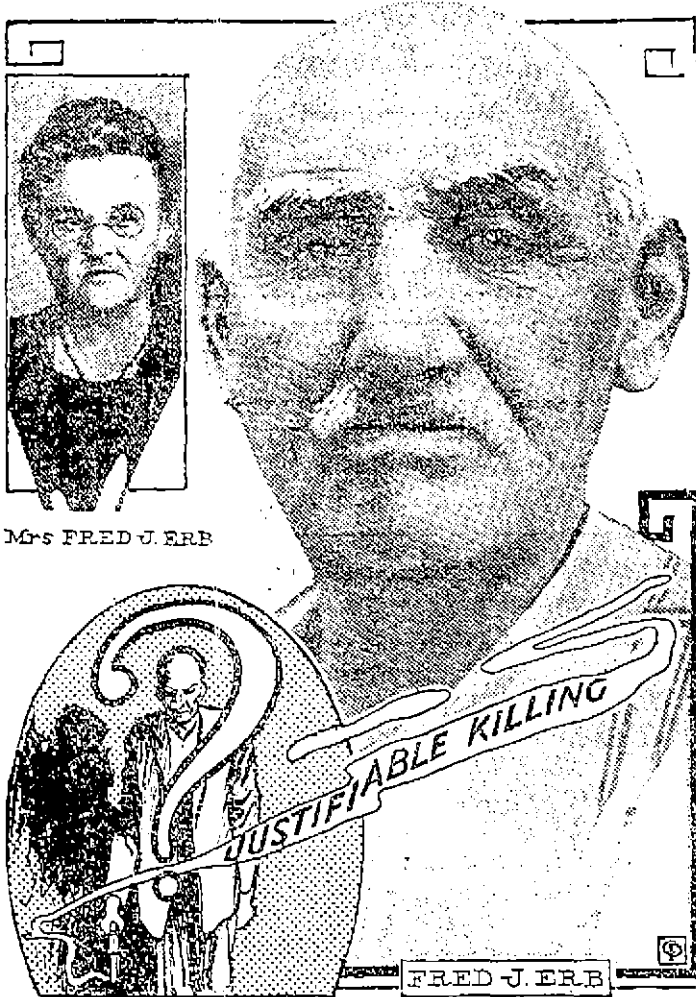

Fresh outbreak of the tribal warfare which was caused in 1927 by the establishment of military outposts on the border of Iraq is again threatening Ibn Saud, above, King of Hedjaz. Ibn Saud refused to war with Iraq over these borders but the Mutair confederation of tribes demands war since Ibn could not affect a settlement through diplomacy. They are reported revolting against the rule of Ibn Saud who has gathered an army of 20,000 to 30,000 men to do battle with those who would usurp his rule attained by thirty years of conquest.

SPORTS CLOTHES STILL RETAIN MANNISH SWAGGER

SEEK PARDON FOR MERCY SLAYER

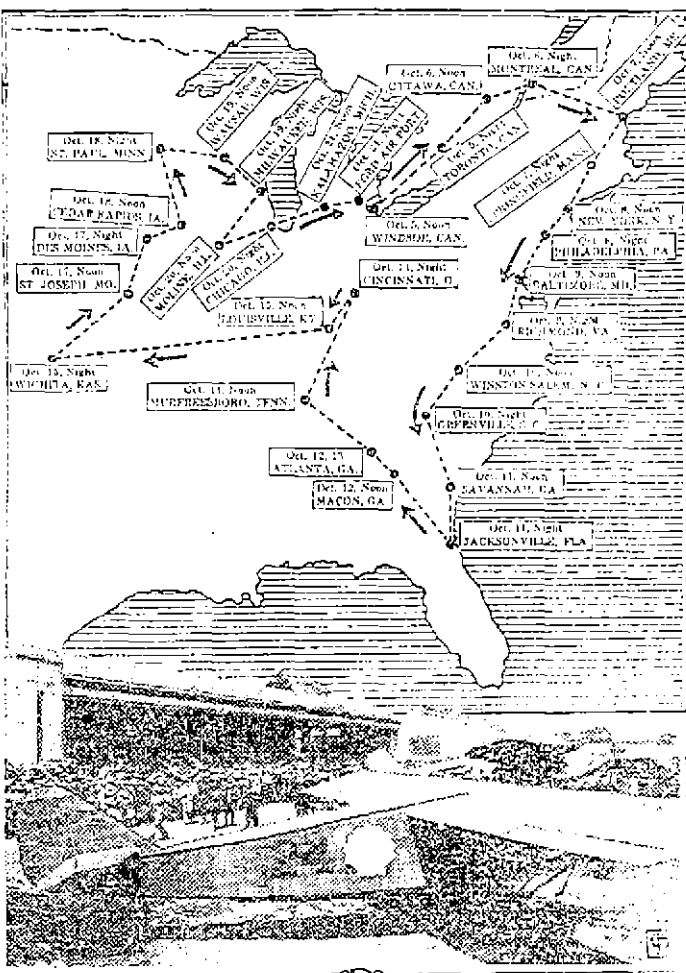

With Gov. Clyde M. Reed rests the fate of Fred J. Erb, 75-year-old "mercy slayer," of Lawrence, Kas., who fired a bullet into the brain of his wife, Susan, 75, to whom he had been married 56 years, because she was a helpless invalid and he feared there would be no one to care for her after his death. Erb tried to commit suicide, but his gun jammed. Too weak to stand trial, the old man pleaded guilty and was sentenced to life imprisonment. Whether or not there is such a thing as "justifiable murder" is the question confronting Governor Reed, as he considers Erb's pardon application.

Envied by Women

John Larson, ship's storekeeper of Gothenburg, Sweden, is believed to be the envy of every housewife in his country. After 30 years on the job he can keep milk fresh for 40 days at a time, can keep meat edible for 10 years, if he has to, and can buy the supplies for his ship, vast quantities, in half a morning. His ship kitchen is said to be immaculate.

TUNE PLANES FOR 1929 AIR TOUR

October 5th will mark the start of the fifth national air tour for the Edsel B. Ford trophy at Detroit. Approximately 50 planes are entered in the tour which is designed to promote civil aeronautics and demonstrate the reliability of airplane travel. Pilots will fly 5,000 miles in 16 days, visiting some 30 cities in the United States and Canada. Map of the route is above; below, a group of planes ready to take off from Detroit in the 1928 race.

Murder Witness

Hobart White, one of the persons riding on the truck, when Gastonia, N. C., mob opened fire on union strikers and killed Mrs. Ella Mae Wiggins. White had his arm broken in the battle that followed the killing and will be one of the important witnesses when the suspected mob members are brought to trial.

Will Entertain Premier

Mrs. Herbert Hoover, first lady of the land, will entertain Premier Ramsay MacDonald and his daughter during their visit in Washington. Since news of the British statesman's trip to this country has been confirmed, Washington society is fearful that the question of seating will again come up as it is possible that Mrs. Dolly Gann, sister of Vice President Curtis will demand that she outrank Lady Frances Howard, wife of the British Ambassador, who will be hostess to the MacDonalds.

TO INVESTIGATE TIJUANA SHOOTING

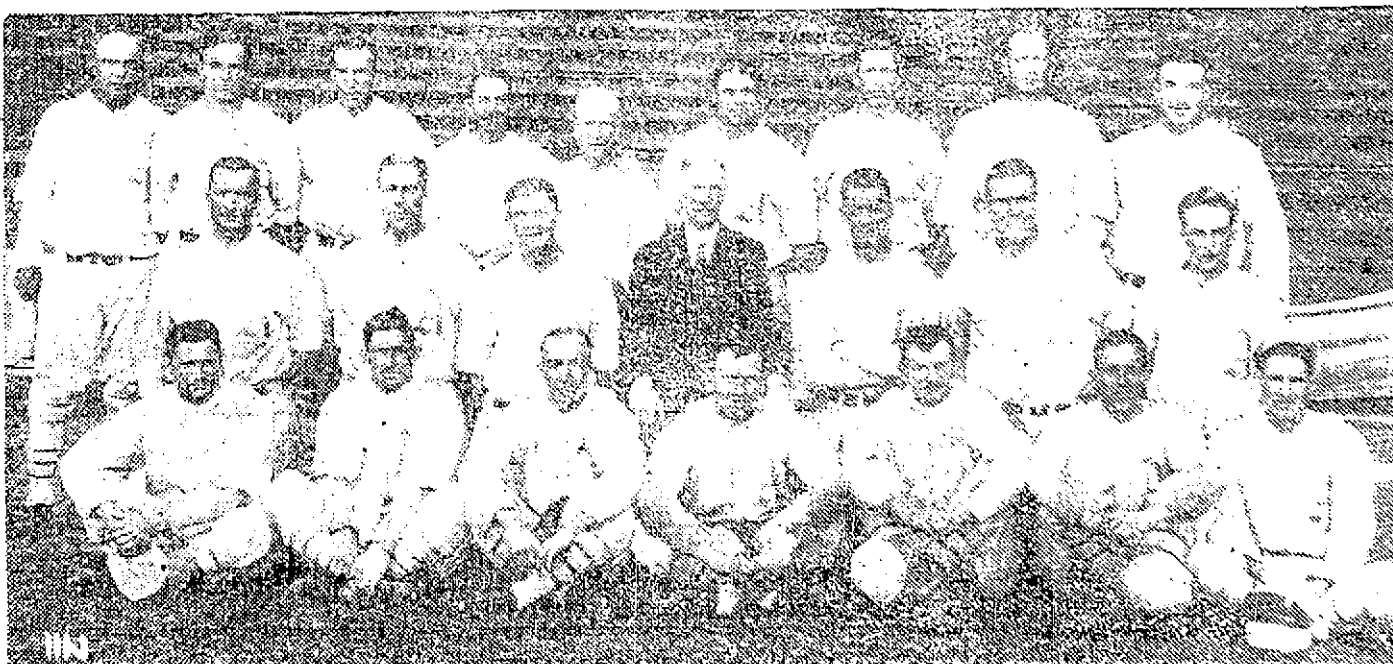

Federal moved action and action as a result of a Tijuana shooting is to be taken in Los Angeles by Mrs. Benjamin Quibell, an American woman, and her husband. According to dispatches from Tijuana, border town, the Quibells and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cotter were standing around an automobile accident in the main street of Tijuana when a Mexican policeman became embroiled with the pair that they had something to do with the crash and knocked Cotter down and put a bullet through Mrs. Quibell's forearm. She was held in the Tijuana jail without medical attention for many hours and Cotter, still longer, was finally released with an apology from the chief of police. Photo shows Mrs. Quibell and her children who were married to safety when the shooting began.

ST. PAUL PAYS HONOR TO AMATEUR GOLF CHAMPION

Forest Brigades Warned Of Fires

Prevention Department Moves To Avoid Blazes
During State Hunting Season

Bulletin Tells Wardens Best Methods To Use In Battling Flames

With the advent of the hunting season the Pennsylvania State Department of Forestry is preparing its forest fire brigades to be especially watchful in the big game sections of the state for the outbreak of fires where "scrub" wood and underbrush are heaviest.

In a bulletin just issued by Forestry Department headquarters in Harrisburg to game wardens and forest fire patrols throughout the Commonwealth, it outlines a plan of methodical campaigning with well-organized crews.

A forest fire-fighting crew usually consists of from six to twelve men under the supervision of a fire warden. On large fires, where from 50 to 300 or more men are employed, the crews are ordinarily supervised by an experienced forester.

On a small fire of ten acres or less in area, one crew is usually enough to extinguish it in a few hours. On larger fires at least two crews are used.

Like practically all classes of physical work in this scientific age, fire-fighting is now carried on under a definite system of organization, which designates to each man a certain tool to use and a certain position in the crew.

Again the department outlines the organization of a crew of ten men and the order of their position on the fire line.

Axmen Are First

Two axmen, sometimes called swappers, remove the larger trees and logs in the path of the fire line. Next follow four men who use brush-hooks for cutting smaller bushes and saplings and special rakes and shovels for cleaning the ground of leaves down to the mineral soil.

Then comes a torchman, who sets the back-fire along and inside the cleared trail cut and raked by these men. After the torchman comes a man carrying a tank of water strapped to his back.

He dampens down the lines and extinguishes any sparks which may ignite dry stuff on the unburned side of the path. The others of the crew carry additional tanks, axes and rakes and act as a rear guard to prevent the spread of back-fires across the path.

"As important as having a well-equipped fire crew under an experienced foreman," the Department counsels, "is the proper method of attack on the fire."

"A forest fire, to be fought successfully, cannot be attacked at random. A fire in the woods tends to spread hardest with the wind and consequently there is always one point at which it burns fastest and fiercest. That point is called the 'header'."

"To attack the fire at any place other than the 'header' is futile, for the crews might never surround the blaze if the 'header' burns at a rate much faster than the crews work."

Battle "Header" First
"Accordingly, the crews often attack a fire considerably in advance of the oncoming 'header.' If the fire is burning up the side of a mountain, as is frequently the case, the crews will begin work anywhere from a point several hundred yards to a mile or more ahead of the onrushing blaze."

"The proper use of back-fire is the great solution of the problem of fighting forest fires. Other methods are used, but back-firing is the method mainly relied upon."

"In fact, it is almost the only successful way to combat large fires. Beating out a fire cannot be managed when the flames are high; it has, as a system, the added drawback of sometimes being the means of scattering more fire."

"Then, too, that part of a fire line that has been beaten out is never safe, inasmuch as one spark may fall in dry leaves, smolder unnoticed and later burst into flame. Such an outbreak of a forest fire is often more difficult to bring under control than the original fire."

Altoona Slaying Is Mysterious To Police Officials

International News Service
ALTOONA, Sept. 24.—Saw through the temple while she was asleep in bed, Mrs. Eliza Logan, negro was found dead in bed early Monday by her husband, George Logan. He is being held on a murder charge although he insists that the shot was fired through the window from the outside.

Leaves To Manage
Store In Toledo
William Gabbert who for some time managed the Norman Jewelry company store in this city, has left to assume management of a jewelry company of Toledo, it is learned.

Mr. and Mrs. Gabbert resided on Highland avenue during their residence here. Their many friends will regret their departure.

From here the Gabberts went to Indianapolis where they will spend a few days. They will soon return to the Ohio city where Mr. Gabbert will assume his new duties.

TWO CARLOADS of MAYTAGS Arrive

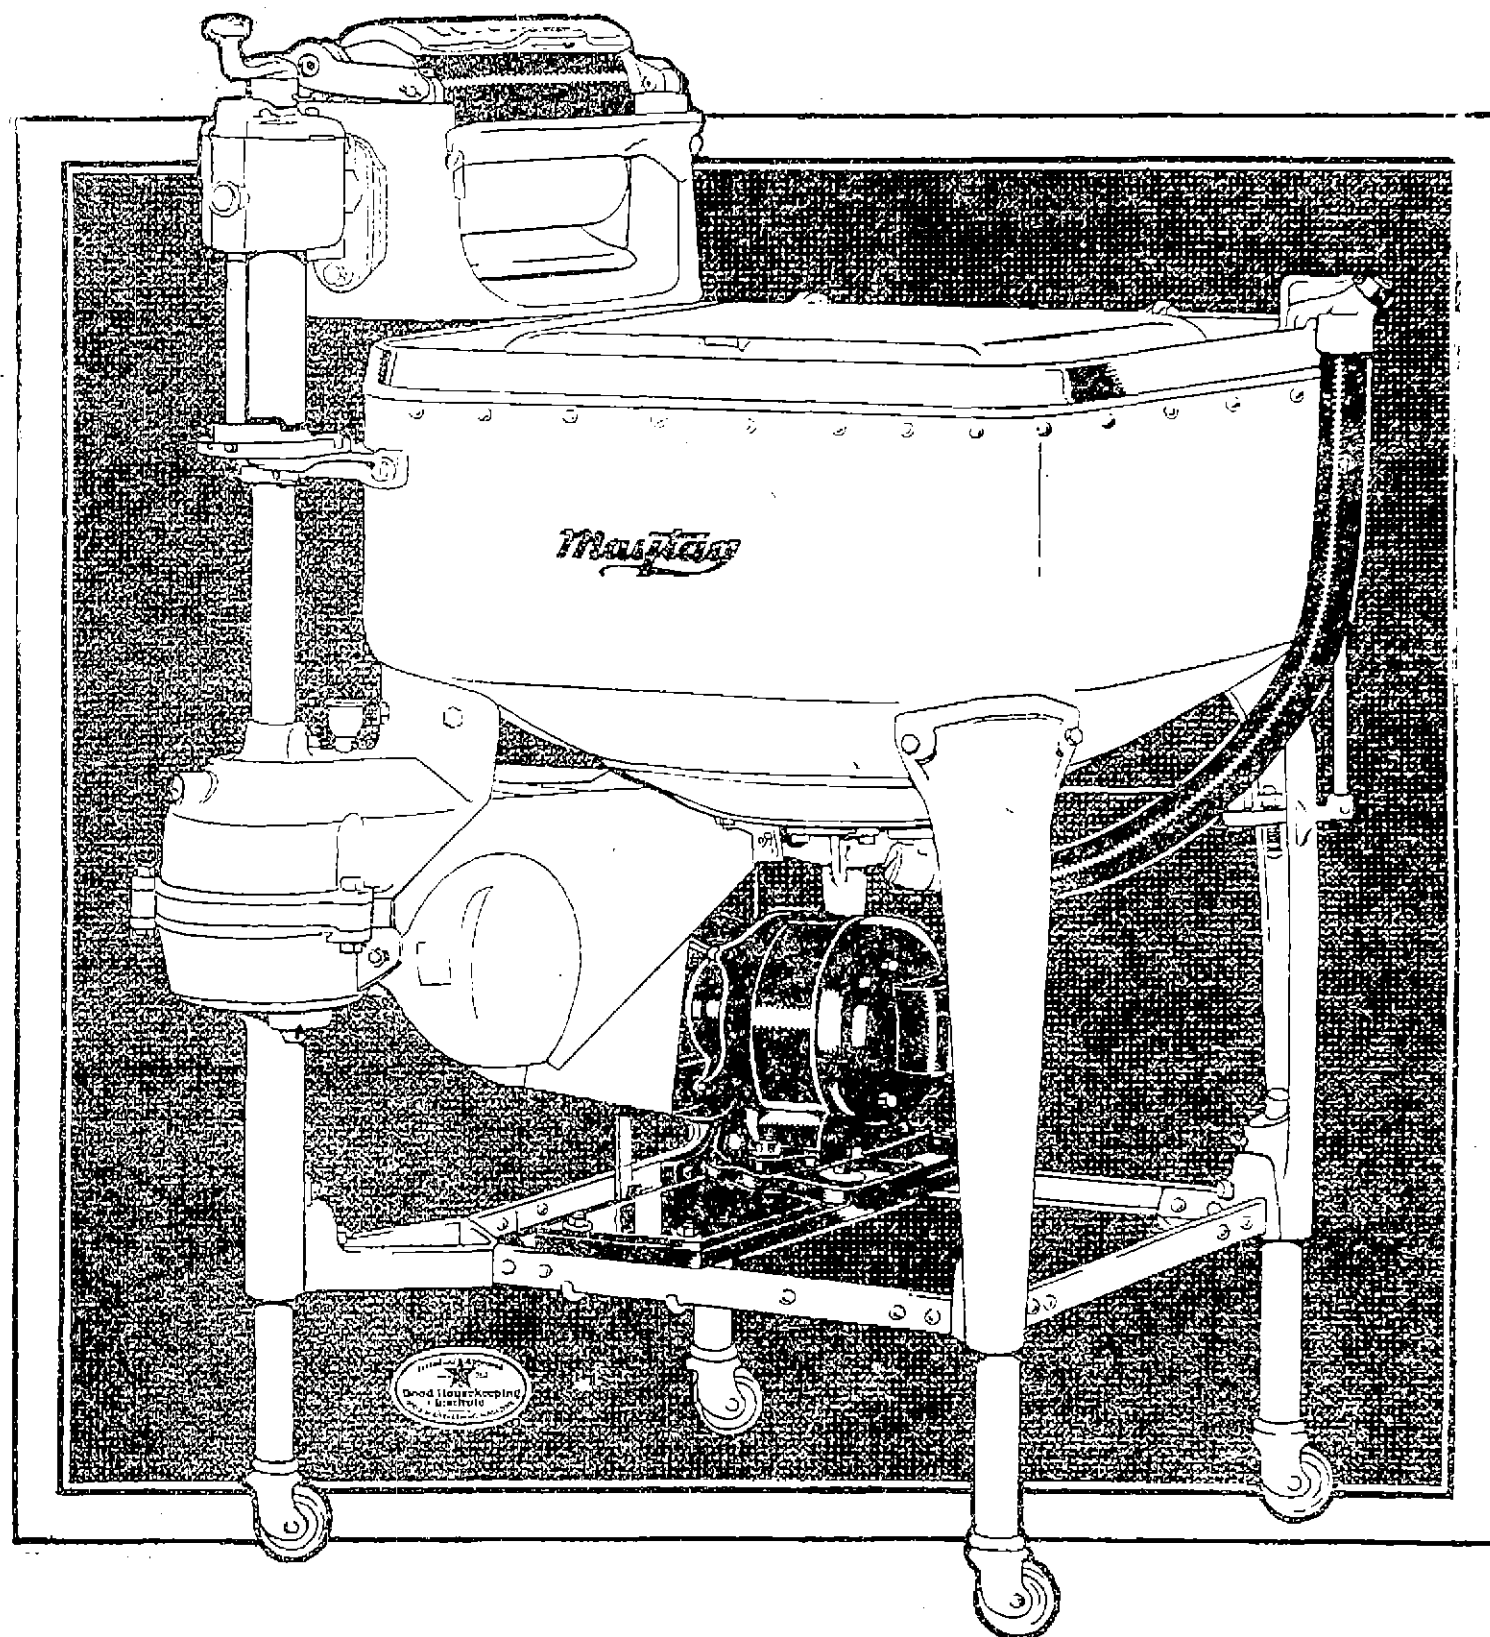

The Largest Shipment of Washers Ever Received in New Castle

A DOUBLE carload shipment of Maytags for New Castle—making seven carloads for this year—overwhelming evidence of the Maytag's popularity. This preference for the Maytag is world wide. It holds unchallenged world leadership.

The woman who owns a Maytag saves many precious hours, saves effort, saves clothes. The cast-aluminum, heat-retaining tub and gyrofoam action flush out the most stubborn dirt without hand-rubbing.

The Maytag Roller Water Remover has a soft upper roll and a hard lower roll resulting in even-dry wringing regardless of lumps, folds or seams in the clothes; safe wringing without harm to buttons, without pulling or twisting delicate fabrics; rapid wringing because the safety feed gathers the clothes into the rolls, because the tension adjusts itself automatically and because the drain-plate reverses itself.

American Legion Drum Corps Places Order For Uniforms

Comrades Sure Of Quota In Drive For Uniforms Here

New Officers To Be Elected And Installed On October 7

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 24.—At a special meeting of the J. Wilbur Randolph Post of the American Legion Monday night it was reported that the Legion drive for new uniforms for the bugle and drum corps was nearing the top and the uniforms had been ordered. Forty will be needed at a cost of $50 each.

An official nomination of officers for the coming year took place and these will be elected and installed at the Legion rooms October 7.

The post has received Armistice Day invitations from Butler and Beaver Falls and a committee consisting of Dr. B. M. Lawther, H. Martin Lee and T. C. Slater was appointed to investigate and decide which invitation to accept.

Carl Pike, Ed. Cain and Clem Hayes were delegates to the state convention this summer in Scranton, Pa., each gave interesting reports.

It was also made known that a local monument company has offered to give the Legion marble markers to be placed in the Legion park to replace the wooden ones which are there in honor of local Legionnaires killed in the World War. The offer was accepted and the new markers will be placed in the near future.

Club Hears Very Interesting Talk On Java People

Rev. Harry Bonnell, Who Spent 17 Years In Mission Field In Java, Speaks To Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 24.—Members of the Kiwanis Club heard an interesting talk on Java in an address by Rev. Harry Bonnell of the First Methodist church of New Brighton on the occasion of their regular weekly dinner-meeting Monday night in the dining room of the Lutheran church.

Rev. Bonnell labeled his talk "The Other Side of the World" and told some interesting facts concerning Java, its people, its imports and various activities. He made an unusual plea for support of the mission fields purely from a business standpoint. He claimed that the missionaries were raising the standards of living in Java and other foreign countries from an economic as well as religious standpoint. He stated that the missionaries are not satisfied with the present conditions and are creating a larger market for American products. He further claimed that Java exports most of the tin and rubber used in this country and always will be the chief exporter of these commodities, as well as spices, sugar and much of the world's tobacco.

The Story Of The World War
1917—The End Of The Czarism

FOLLOWING HIS ABDICATION ON MARCH 15, 1917, CZAR NICHOLAS OF RUSSIA RETURNED TO PETROGRAD A PRISONER OF THE NEW PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT, AND WAS INTERNEED WITH THE CZARINA AND HIS CHILDREN IN THE ALEXANDRA PALACE AT TSARSKOE SELO.

THE GRAND DUKE MICHAEL, WHOM THE CZAR HAD NAMED AS HIS SUCCESSOR, PROMPTLY RENOUNCED THE THRONE, AND THE REIGN OF THE ROMANOV, WHO HAD RULED RUSSIA FOR SOME THREE HUNDRED YEARS, CAME TO AN END. ONE OF THE FIRST ACTS OF THE REVOLUTIONISTS WAS TO LIBERATE ALL POLITICAL PRISONERS OF THE OLD REGIME IN RUSSIA AND SIBERIA.

HIGH OFFICIALS OF THE IMPERIAL COURT WERE LOCKED UP IN THE CRIM. FORTRESS-PRISON OF PETER AND PAUL, THE VERY PLACE TO WHICH THEY IN THEIR DAY OF POWER HAD SENT HUNDREDS OF REVOLUTIONISTS.

WITH THE DOWNFALL OF THE MONARCHY, THERE OCCURRED A FRANTIC EXODUS OF NOBLES AND ARISTOCRATS FROM RUSSIA. FEARING THE VIOLENCE OF THE REVOLUTIONISTS, THEY FLED TO OTHER LANDS WITH AS MUCH OF THEIR WEALTH AS THEY COULD CARRY.

GRADING TOUR TO PASS THRU COUNTY OCT 1

Fifteen Other Counties To Be Visited On Month's Trip
By Experts

Increased production and improved quality of potatoes in the Greater Pittsburgh district is expected as the direct result of a grading and marketing tour covering 16 counties in western Pennsylvania beginning September 25 and ending October 24. The tour is being sponsored by the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce and the Pennsylvania State college. H. R. McCulloch, county agent, learns.

State college experts in grading and marketing potatoes will be in charge of the tour. Other specialists in marketing and production will accompany the expedition and will endeavor to show the producer that better prices can be obtained from potatoes which have been better cultivated and graded.

County Agent McCulloch is preparing schedules listing the various demonstrations to be held in Lawrence county. The party will spend Tuesday, October 1, here.

Other counties to be covered by the tour will be Fayette, Somerset, Allegheny, Beaver, Butler, Washington, Westmoreland, Armstrong, Jefferson, Venango, Crawford, Erie, Mercer, Cambria and Bedford.

To Compile Lists Of Local Voters

New Act Provides That Names
Be Published Under Street
Headings

County Commissioners are engaged in taking off a list of the names of voters in this city to be published in books for election purposes. It is the first time that this has ever been done. It is for the purpose of complying with an act of the recent legislature, which directs that all lists returned by the registrars be compiled under the street headings with the names and addresses of voters as they appear on the registry list. The work will entail considerable expense and the object of it is not very clear. The act provides for the publication of one hundred lists for each district. Heretofore candidates and politicians have had to go to the county commissioners' and take off their own lists.

Toad Is Victor In Battle With Snake

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Sept. 24.—William H. Young, chairman of the Board of Public Works, investigating the water supply situation at Parnham, came across many snakes that evidently came near the water supply because of the dry spell. His attention was attracted to a battle between a snake and a toad, he said. The snake was bent on swallowing the toad and the toad equally as determined that such an end should not be its fate. It squatted across the path of the snake with a twig four inches long in its mouth. Every time the snake would try to reach a vantage point the toad would move so that it faced the snake, the twig preventing the snake from getting its prey.

Fifteen Injured In Rush To Attend Big Brooklyn Sale

Fifteen Hundred Storm Big Store To Get Bargains;
Several Trampled

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Fifteen persons, including several children, were injured today when a crowd of 1,500 rushed the store of Mays Company, Inc., in Brooklyn, and smashed in four plate glass windows in a mad effort to attend a sale.

Most of the injured suffered from cuts, but several incurred broken bones in the jam.

Four ambulances were summoned to the scene and a first aid station was set up in the company's offices.

What A Break For Ralph Boas Junior

(International News Service)
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 24.—

From Mt. Holyoke College where he spent a year in classes as the only man surrounded by one thousand beautiful girls, Ralph Boas, Jr., slim youth of sixteen, today entered classes at Harvard for men only.

The youth is the son of Professor Boas of the English department at Mt. Holyoke, who thought it would be a good idea for the lad to spend a year in a woman's college.

"I didn't enjoy it," said young Boas. "I don't like women and that's probably because I've seen so much of them."

Young Boas doesn't smoke, one radical difference between him and most of his classmates last year, he said, and some of the girls swear, he added.

Auto Ride Ends In Arrest Of Davis

James Davis is on trial before Judge James A. Chambers today on a charge of assault and battery with intent to commit a more serious offense on Margaret Harley. It is claimed that Davis picked up Miss Harley at the Johnson Bronze plant, where she was employed, and took her for an auto ride. They went out the Savannah road, where Miss Harley claims that Davis attacked her. He denies the charge.

Of Little Faith Ozark Youth Tries Dieting But Can't Believe When Scales Show Gain

By J. C. JOHNSON
Central Press Correspondent.
THAYER, Mo., Sept. 24.—Down in the foothills of this beautiful Ozark mountain country one meets a 17-year-old youth who believes dieting to reduce is the bunk.

He ought to know—for he has tried it, and—

"Gosh, I almost starved to death doing it, and got fat starving," he said, good naturedly.

338 Pounds.
This unbeliever in the gospel of dieting is Arthur Wolff. He weighs 338 pounds and is 6 feet 11 inches tall.

He has a grip on him that makes one glad to get his "five" back after shaking hands with him, and can go through athletic stunts that are difficult for some of the 150-pounders he chums around with.

His wind is not short when he takes a good run. He accounts for this because he is an ardent hiker and does plenty of it up and down the Ozark mountains around this little southern Missouri town.

Now about dieting. Arthur puts it this way—

"You see, I go to the Thayer high school," he said. "Well, about the first flop out of the box I was told I ought to reduce. Well, I thought I ought to, too, so I says to 'em to show me how."

They told me to quit eating this and that and the other. Doggonit they picked out about everything I liked to eat, and told me to lay off of it.

"Then they told me to take a lot of exercise—run, jump, play ball, football. They didn't leave anything out of the athletic menu."

"Well, I gave the program a 'house'. I did everything they told me to do. And what do you think? Darned if I didn't wind up weighing more 'n when I started dieting, and I thought I'd die from starvation."

"I got so blamed hungry exercising that I just had to walk out of my way every time I went down town so that I wouldn't pass a restaurant where they might be cooking things. But I stuck out the program in spite of that terrible empty feeling—but you needn't think I'm going to do it again. Why? Cuz it doesn't do any good."

But the athletic program did a lot for him. It hardened his muscles into strength that makes him the town's "iron man" and the terror of any football team that cares to take on the Thayer high school eleven.

Strongman Act.
The citizens here marvel at his strength, and he often stages an impromptu strong man act by picking up two or three averaged sized men and holding them with ease in his arms.

Unlike many of his build, Arthur is not at all sensitive over his excess weight.

"Can't help it," he said, "so can't see any use worrying about it. If people get a kick out of me being fat, well, that makes me feel like I am doing some good."

Parents-Teachers
Convene Thursday
Oak Street School Association
To Hold Initial Meeting Of Fall

Every member is expected to be present for the first fall meeting of the Oak Street Parent-Teachers' association which occurs on Thursday, September 26, at the building at 2 o'clock eastern standard time.

The meeting will be an extremely important one due to the fact that several new officers must be chosen. In several cases officers have moved away and vacancies have been created.

The Oak Street P. T. A. assisted the school library very materially during the last year and it is planned to aid it this way in an even greater measure.

Auto Inspection
During October

As another piece of service to motorists, B. N. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor club is impressing upon all drivers the necessity of getting their cars inspected between October 1, and November 15.

The State Highway Department has made it mandatory upon automobile drivers to have their cars inspected at a licensed station between the dates mentioned, and a tag will be pasted on the windshield of the car showing that this has been done. A certificate will also be issued.

All cars failing to show such a certificate after November 15 will be stopped and the driver arrested. The measure is being adopted by the state as a means of making driving safer in the state of Pennsylvania.

CRUELTY ALLEGED IN DIVORCE CASE

Michael Cik has filed an application for divorce from his wife, Peppa Cik on the ground of desertion, cruelties and indignities to his person. They were married in February, 1923, and lived together until December, 1925.

MARINE BAND'S SPONSORS HELD

Akron Promoter Nabbed On $1,345 Check On Monday Afternoon

AKRON, O., Sept. 24.—"Tell it to the marines—we got him," Akron detectives reported to Chief Ed McDonnell Monday afternoon when they arrested Harvey S. Kasberg, 28 at home 632 Allyn street, after the United States Marine band at Washington, D. C. had been "out" on a check he had given for $1,345.

Kasberg promoted a band concert at the Akron Armory yesterday. All went well according to police until Kasberg discovered that fewer than 1,000 turned out yesterday afternoon to hear the band.

Then he attempted to argue the marines out of part of the $1,600 he is said to have guaranteed them for their Akron trip.

Finally it is alleged he gave the leatherneck music makers a check for $1,345 on an Akron bank in which police say he had no funds.

The Akron promoter will be arraigned before Municipal Judge J. Earl Cook in police court today.

Dies While Going To Sister's Funeral

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 24.—While riding in an automobile to attend the funeral of her sister, Mrs. Fannie A. Rhodes, 70, Latrobe, died yesterday as the automobile passed through Turtle Creek on the way to Arnold, where Mrs. Rhodes' sister, Mrs. Mary E. Derby, 80, died last Sunday night.

Harry Derby, nephew of Mrs. Rhodes, had gone to Latrobe to get his aunt and was driving her to his mother's home when she complained of feeling ill. A physician was summoned and pronounced her dead. A double funeral for the sisters will be held tomorrow.

Yeggs Steal Funds Raised By Pupils

TREVERTON, Pa., Sept. 24.—The junior class of the Treverton High school may be forced to forego the pleasure of having class rings or take up another collection to provide them. Last night robbers entered the high school building and broke open the safe in the principal's office. Forty-five dollars collected from members of the class to buy the rings was the extent of the loot.

Leviathan Bar Is Closed While Going To Europe

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The United States liner Leviathan which a few weeks ago tried selling liquor on her east-bound voyage has given up the practice and passengers now must content themselves with drinks they took aboard or with drinks bootlegged by the delighted stewards.

For reasons unexplained the bars are now closed while the ship is heading for Europe although previously the United States lines took over the practice of other ships sailing under the American flag and served whatever the passengers choose to drink.

According to members of the crew the smoke room and dining room stewards served liquor openly on the one eastward voyage. After that single trip the story was published that the bars had been opened. When the Leviathan next sailed from New York the crew says there was no liquor to be bought except from stewards who had their own bootlegged supply and who charged exorbitant prices for liquor bought in New York and peddled as having been purchased in Southampton.

At Smith and his friends are planning an 80-story building. This is the first time a Democratic candidate has aspired to anything so high after election.

It would be comical if taxes eventually had to go back to quiet colors to distinguish them from private cars.

Rayen High Will Bring Strong Team To New Castle; Ohioans Anxious To Win

By "BUGS" WALTHER

Having heard with his trained, well-shaped ear, the defects in the New Castle high school football machine in the opening spectacle Friday night against Grove City, Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh is going over the entire chassis today, tightening up here and there.

The misuses were not many, the faults are few, just little ordinary things that must be corrected, but Mr. Bridenbaugh is a very exacting man, and everything must be perfect.

The reason for the diligent work this week comes in the form of a rather good Rayen high football squad. The Youngstowners are scheduled to provide the customers with the thrills Friday night at the stadium.

Rayen high will bring to New Castle a grid combination that is lacking in very few departments. Coach Lansing—and by the way, this man is a newcomer to Youngstown—is drilling the boys hard this week. Rayen opened the season last Saturday by drubbing Lehigh of Weirton, W. Va., and everybody was happy. A victory over New Castle would just about gain the struggling students a holiday.

With both Lehigh and South on the program this season, there is a lot of interest in the contests. Naturally the boys from over the line will carry through their rivalry into the New Castle domain. Each will try to beat New Castle or to hold the Bridenbaugh team to a low tally.

What Rayen lacks, according to the dope, is just two good halfbacks. "Bridy" could trade them a couple of pretty smooth ball carriers for a few linemen. Not to say that New Castle hasn't a line, but there are a few weak spots.

One young man answering the dinner bell to the name of Farrar (no relation to Geraldine), is a sweet looking kid-up, if you know what I mean. He is a left-footed kicker and left-handed people are usually good. How they figure over in Ohio when a high school punter only gets about 50 yards at a kick, that he's holding back something is puzzling. Anyhow if Farrar kicks 50 yards at a setting, he is good enough for any man's league. And they go on to say that what this dynamo lacks in kicking he makes up for in line plunging. Farrar may decide to leave the line alone and skirt the ends, who knows. Cumisky, they say, is a good full-back and Plauto is a quarterback with a lot of Houdini tricks up his sleeve.

But getting back to the New Castle team—the locals played a nice game against Grove City. They were nervous, just a little, it was the initial sets, and the boys, some of them, were unaccustomed to the big crowd. The lights were new, the idea of playing by flood light sorta caused a little bit of a quaking feeling, and still they were good enough to down Grove City. They will be ready for Rayen.

On the other hand, all that maneuvering on the Manchester border may be preliminary training for a prohibition regime.—The Springfield Mass. Union.

While we do not know the man who gets up the time schedules for interstate buses, we feel that he is an optimist.—The Detroit News.

Crimson Squad Is Reaching Form

Grove City Team Nears Season Condition; First Game On Saturday

GROVE CITY, Pa., Sept. 24.—The Crimson football squad was given a light workout Monday when punting, passing and signal drill were featured. A number of players are nursing minor injuries and Coach Berry plans to go easy on scrimmages work this week so that all may be in shape for the opener Saturday with Adrian.

Two hours of hard scrimmage was held Saturday afternoon, when two teams fought for every inch of College field. Elwood Kammer, Massillon boy, who is playing his fourth year with Grove City, stole the spotlight with his hard dashes around end. The Ohio flash is headed for a big year, according to his early form. Captain Marcus Rankin, veteran end, is another Crimson performer who is already at the peak of condition and his defensive work in Saturday's scrimmage was a feature.

In lining up teams for scrimmage, Coach Berry has the side-line crowd guessing as to the probable starting line-up for Saturday. Various combinations, both in the line and backfield, have been used, and no individual is yet securely entrenched in his job. Berry stated today that the position is open and will remain open throughout the season.

Saturday's scrimmage left several men who are hailed as probable first-string men on the injured list. None are seriously hurt and will probably be in shape by Saturday, but the situation further complicates the selection of a starting eleven. With rumors current that Adrian has the strongest team in its history this year, the Crimson mentor wants his squad in the best of shape for the opener.

Jack Sharkey Looks Good In Training

(International News Service) ORANGETOWN, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Jack Sharkey will conclude training here today for his bout with Tommy Loughran at the Yankee stadium on Thursday night with three or four rounds of boxing. His followers were gladdened yesterday when Jack displayed by far the best form he has yet shown in his early work. After pummeling Jack Gagnon and Arthur Flynn at will, Sharkey stepped into the ring with Armand Emanuel, clever coast boxer. Emanuel, who lost a close decision to Loughran after nocking him, was one of the best left hands in the business, but it did him little good against Sharkey. The Boston boy weaved under Emanuel's left, landing with his own and getting in telling punches to the body.

A BED-TIME STORY

Burns Wins From Jack McKenna In 10 Rounds

Oakland, Calif. Shows Class And Punch In Bout With Tough Canadian Who Drops Behind As Bout Goes Into Latter Stages; Receives Good Trouncing In Eighth, Ninth And Tenth; Romeo Pacelli Beats Tommy Duffy In Best Battle Of His Career.

By ED FRITZ

Johnny Burns, Oakland, Calif., came to the Jolly bowl last night and when he had finished his 10-round set with Jack McKenna, a rugged Canadian, there were no doubts as to who had won. The judges handed the deserved award to Burns and he left the ring unmarked. They are middleweights.

McKenna's face and body showed the effects of the battering he had received from a rapid left and a lightning right and while he tried hard, Burns showed him conclusively and especially in the tenth that the Canadian was not in his class. In fact, McKenna buffeted him about the ring like the proverbial storm tosses a rowboat in a bay. During the first few rounds of the fight McKenna paced Burns hard but as soon as Johnny figured out the Canadian's style he went to work in a master like manner.

The seventh was the best round that McKenna had. He took it because Burns slowed up and McKenna made use of left hooks to the body and caught Burns with his strong right as Burns rushed in. Burns was drifting away when the blow was landed and he escaped most of its force.

Burns sped up in the eighth and staggered McKenna and had him looking bad and in the ninth Burns simply assaulted him with rights and lefts but McKenna kept taking it and asking for more, landing occasionally. Burns Cuts Loose.

It was in the tenth that the fans got a true line on Burns as he tried desperately for a knockout. He was like a piston and his punches fell like lightning. Jack tried to hit the elusive Burns but couldn't do a thing and was given a good mauling.

Burns certainly lived up to everything that was said of him, once he settled down to hard work, while McKenna threw his knockout right time and again but whenever it did land Burns was going away and did not get the full force of the punch.

There were many present last night who said they would like to see Henry Firpo, conqueror of all his foes here, take on Burns. Johnny's manager, Tom Walsh, agreed to fight Firpo any time that Jimmy Dunn would agree to let Firpo meet the California star.

Firpo's reach would stand him in good stead and his right, better than McKenna's, according to our opinion, would cause Burns more trouble than that of the Canadian. After the bout Burns, enquired for New York and McKenna returned to Cleveland.

Jack De Neri of Cleveland and Dandy Allen, Philadelphia, featherweights, fought a six-round semi-final, with the decision going to De Neri. The Cleveland featherweight dropped Allen twice.

De Neri tied in the third and Allen forced the fighting and picked up some of the ground he had lost in the first three sessions. De Neri came back in the sixth round and was given the decision over the colored boy.

Romeo Fights Violently. Romeo Pacelli fought the best bout of his career when he met Tommy Duffy of Cleveland and took the six-round decision. Romeo fought aggressively and Duffy battled him back. Time and again the New Castle lad staggered Duffy, who proved tough and willing.

In the third round the fight was the hotcakes, as Romeo took after Duffy and backed him to the ropes, where Duffy was rocked with rights and lefts to the head. Duffy got away and kept poking a left to the face and tried for a right to the jaw.

When Tommy missed with a right uppercut Romeo stepped away, then back in and clipped Duffy on the head, which staggered him. Duffy was in bad shape and held on like a leech, and while trying to get free Romeo wrestled him to the floor.

Romeo had Duffy covering during the fifth, as he felt the shelling, he got in the fourth, and when the sixth opened they both shot jabs and rights, and for a second it was a whirlwind, but Romeo soon started leathery Duffy again.

Pacelli fought a good fight and took some solid right-hand punches without quivering. He outpointed Duffy at close quarters and deserved the decision. If Romeo continues this style fighting he will soon become a big favorite here. Joe Folans of Beaver Falls, a neat boxer, gave Roy Minter a lacing in the second bout, and in the first Young Murphy, Ryantown, stopped

Allegheny Will Be Ready To Give Geneva Hard Game

Coach "Molly" Crum Works Hard With Fine Looking Squad At Meadville

MEADVILLE, Pa., Sept. 24.—As the time for the opening football game with Geneva College, here next Saturday approaches, the interest in the game increases in Meadville. The enthusiasm of the local fans is at a very high pitch, and it would not be surprising if the attendance record for Montgomery Field is broken next Saturday.

The Allegheny team continues to improve, and has developed into a formidable eleven. The battle for positions becomes keener every day, and it is practically impossible to determine who will start the Geneva game in the various positions. The competition for tackle jobs is especially keen. The veterans, Gibson and Pichilino, are putting forth their best efforts to hold their jobs, but they are being pushed to the limit by Showers and School, two big freshmen candidates. If these youngsters continue to improve this week at the same rate they did last week, they may be found in the line-up at the kick-off next Saturday.

Coach Crum has been giving much attention in the past few practices to his defense against the strong Geneva forward passing attack. He will continue this drill throughout the week, for he has been informed by Coach Hammett, Allegheny's sterling scout, that this department of the game has been stressed very greatly in the past by the Geneva coaches.

George Chip refereed the battles and Pete Capitola was the timekeeper. The judges were Paella and Jones. Bugs Walther was the announcer and the show was promoted by Bill Jolly. Ideal weather prevailed for the bout, which was run off without delay.

Many Seek Seats For Rayen Game Friday Evening

Youngstown Followers Expected To Send Crowd Of 2,500 To New Castle

URGENT FOOTBALL FANS TO GET TO GAME EARLY

With a real battle promised between New Castle high school and Rayen high school on Franklin field Friday evening, Sept. 27, fans are already asking for seats. Youngstown is planning to send over about 2,500 fans, which means that Franklin field will be taxed to the limit, for New Castle will be there 10,000 strong.

Because there will undoubtedly be such a mob at the game, New Castle people are asked to get into the stadium early on Friday night. The game will start at 8:30 p. m., daylight savings time, and by eight o'clock there will be a big jam around the ticket windows. It will be wise to get in well before eight o'clock.

Automobile owners will find it to their advantage to park their cars far away from the stadium and thus avoid the usual traffic jam after the game.

Miller Huggins Critically Ill

Diminutive Manager Of Yankees Fights For Life In New York City Hospital

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Miller Huggins, whose fighting spirit has led his New York Yankees to many a brilliant triumph in baseball, early today was barely holding his own in the greatest battle of his life.

The latest bulletin from St. Vincent's hospital, where the thin, little, half-sized manager of 49 is gravely ill from erysipelas complicated by influenza, stated that Huggins was due to meet the crisis of his grave illness some time during the dawn, but it appeared extremely doubtful that unless an unexpected rally occurred, he would live until evening.

Not the slightest improvement was noted throughout the night, despite two blood transfusions yesterday that were hoped would put the Yankee leader on the upgrade. Physicians stated that another blood transfusion might be attempted early today.

During a brief period of consciousness last night Huggins, realizing the gravity of his condition, asked for a conference with his legal adviser in regard to his will.

Messages of sympathy for the Yankee manager poured into the office of the club last night from all parts of the country.

Loughran Punishes Sparring Partners

(International News Service) HARVEY LAKE, Pa., Sept. 24.—It's quite a good thing that Tommy Loughran has wound up his heavy training for his Thursday night bout with Jack Sharkey at the Yankee stadium for Tommy hasn't any sparring partners.

When roll call was sounded for sparring mates yesterday only Frankie Galloway answered "present." Jack Wolfe had already departed, nursing a fractured rib while Harry Neaton refused to go into the ring, saying that he could not stand the body punishment handed out by Loughran any longer.

Loughran has been hitting harder than ever before while training for Sharkey. His punches carry the steam that his shoulders tell is there. He has been speculating in body punches and there is little doubt that he will use this mode of attack in his fight with the Boston strong boy.

His favorite training camp punch has been a double left to the body and jaw followed by a right cross to the jaw.

Mushball Teams To Start Title Series

Lehigh Cement Team And National Tube Of Ellwood To Fight For County Honors

First Game Tonight At 6 O'Clock At Lehigh Field; Both Teams On Edge

By "BUGS"

Tonight at 6 o'clock up on the Lehigh field, just off Maryland and Butler avenues, the Lehigh Portland Cement mushball team, champions of the New Castle mushball league, will battle the National Tube team of Ellwood City, also a championship team. The series will be the best out of three games. The second game will be played Thursday night at Ellwood City.

"John McGraw" Flynn, the great little Lehigh manager is predicting a victory for his crew of sluggers tonight. The National Tube team is as equally confident. A hot game is anticipated. Both teams are on edge. It will be the first time that a series of mushball games has ever been played for a Lawrence county title. In fact it is the first inter-sectional mushball game for New Castle. The game is comparatively new to this city.

Infield Is Good. The Lehigh "million dollar" infield looks like the berries, and unless the writer is mistaken very few hits will be secured through this fine combination of Outis, Ross, W. Kroen, Staph and Mazzer. In the outfield the Lehigh team is equally as strong with Marks, J. Kroen and Irwin patrolling the pastures.

Rich will likely do the flogging. He is without a doubt one of the best mushball pitchers in the city and has had remarkable success this year. The Tube boys are going to look at a lot of fancy feinting, and that's no fooling. With the veteran Gus Thompson behind the plate, the Lehigh team will have a decided edge over their rivals. Thompson, a ball player with lots of natural ability, is also a slugger of no mean stance.

"Wes" Davey and all the loyal Lehigh fans will be out there tonight pulling for Manager Flynn and his husky Cement tossers to come through with another flag. They are quite mushballistically inclined up in the Lehigh valley.

It is understood that quite a number of the Lehigh fans will accompany the team to Ellwood City on Thursday night for the second game. The locals hope to wind it up in two games.

Samuel Hildreth Noted Trainer Of Horses Is Dead

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Samuel Clay Hildreth, 63, leading trainer on the American turf for many years, died today in Fifth Avenue Hospital, following an abdominal operation.

Hildreth, who directed the Ranocas Racing stables, owned by Harry F. Sinclair, complained of intestinal trouble a few weeks ago but refused to consult a doctor. He continued his work until he was stricken during the Saratoga meet when he was rushed to New York for the operation.

Struthers Man Is Charged With Murder

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 24.—Richmond Geary, 27, of Struthers, Mahoning county, is in the county jail charged with first degree murder in connection with the death of Tom Edwards, 36, father of nine children. The two quarreled over money matters.

Phil Scott Is Victor In Bout With Campolo

British Heavyweight Shows Very Little And Yet Is Too Good For Argentinian

SCOTT VERDICT JUSTIFIABLE

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—After sitting around in the dark all evening, starting very significantly at nothing in particular, the assembled intellectuals of the community today were still without an idea concerning the identity of the next heavyweight champion.

In fact, they were further away from a conclusion than ever. They had seen Phil Scott, of England, and Victorio Campolo, of the Argentine, wallow through ten rounds of a fight that was supposed to mean something to the Muldoon-Tunney committee—just as though anything could—and, at the end, all they could say was that they knew a couple of guys who wouldn't be the next champion.

Scott Steals Show
Our Philip stole the show away from Victorio by raking what a police court judge would call a justifiable verdict at the end of ten rounds but neither the man who won nor the man that he licked looked any better than a dollar-ninety.

Scott had been smart in by the advance billing as a smart, shifty boxer. He wasn't last night. He fought the first round like a fish-monger and almost went out under a left and right on the cucumber or profile. After that, he was less careful with his chin but he wasn't fast, even against a chump like Campolo, as for the latter, he was supposed to be a hitter; yet he got in the first punch and still couldn't do anything else about it with the rest of the night at his disposal.

They said he had a great right to the body but he either did not show it or Scott must have a great body for a right. Another Campolo crashed his punch over all night long and nothing happened. In other words, Scott, the man who is supposed to have a glass chin, and a China-closet for a stomach, stopped everything the big Latin had and still was coming on at the final bell.

Campolo Has No Punch
So much for Campolo's punch. I was surprised that Scott had to take as many as he did. He is understood to be a fast boxer and there is nothing about Campolo to greatly occupy a gent of this type. Therefore I am assuming that Scott is not a fast boxer and that Campolo is not a great puncher. They must be something, of course. Off hand I guess they are a couple of guys who would look pretty good in the semi-windup at the next championship.

The fight which was the next to the closing act on the poorest heavy-weight season that boxing has known in many a year drew a crowd of about 12,000 and many a dissenting voice against the decision. Scott won with plenty to spare. He almost blew everything in the first round and although his handlers claimed that he drew a blank for the next seven as a result of Campolo's right cross, our Philip fought with more sense than before the blank was drawn.

Sport Curiosities

Fancy had it that geography has considerable to do with the luck of many an athlete. In certain regions a boxer or a ball player goes big; in others, he's a fearful bust—a classic specimen of which was Jeff Smith, a great middleweight for years. He out-classed all sorts of talent on his lengthy tours but failed miserably whenever given a New York chance. Others besides Jeff Smith have found Gotham to be a jinx. Young Stripling who looks like a world's champ elsewhere, seemed the typical dub in all his New York bouts; nor did he look much better against Jack Sharkey at Miami last winter. Perhaps it's chronic big town stage fright in Strib's case. On the other hand durable Pete Hartley a great lightweight of a de-

City-County League To Meet Thursday

Will Consider A Number Of Matters Of Importance At This Time

Edward Pritchard, president of the City-County Baseball League, today announced a call for a special meeting of the managers of the City-County Baseball League for Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Danceland hall, Neshearnock avenue.

The meeting has been called at the request of the commissioners of the league, cause of a dispute raised by the Energy team. The Energy team has failed to live up to one of the regulations of the league championship contest with Danceland, but claims a good reason for doing so. It is for the purpose of clearing up this situation before the fifth and final game of the series, scheduled for Saturday, that the meeting of the league is called, and all interested parties are expected to be in attendance.

This includes all managers, the officers of the league, the commissioners and the umpires of the game at Energy last Saturday.

TOSSES THREE BABIES INTO NET OF MEN'S COATS

DETROIT, Sept. 24.—Tossing her three babies into an improvised life net, a cool-headed young mother saved the children from death by fire Monday afternoon, when flames swept through a two-story building at 205 E. Vernor Highway, half a block from the blackened ruins of the Study Club, where twenty persons met death last Friday morning.

After dropping her children to safety, the mother also jumped into a life net and also landed unharmed. Mrs. Nellie Adams, who moved here last week from Buffalo, said that while sitting with her three children, Doris, 4; Richard, 2; and Kenneth, 1, in their living room in an upstairs apartment, she smelled smoke. In a moment the room was filled with it. Mrs. Adams ran to a window and shouted for help.

Several men in the street took off their coats and made a net and caught the three babies, one by one. Mrs. Adams jumped into a fire department net.

Drops Dead As She Steps Into Auto

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 24.—Mrs. Nora Carrier, 43, of Lakewood, O., died today as she was stepping into a automobile to be taken to her home. For a week she had been confined to the Warren City hospital, suffering injuries sustained in an automobile accident, and had apparently recovered.

Thirty Dead In Russian Wreck

MOSCOW, Sept. 24.—At least 30 persons were killed outright and 40 injured when a Moscow bound passenger train jumped the tracks at Zuyevka, near Viatka, today. It is believed all the victims were Russians. Six wooden cars were demolished.

Connie Mack Is Worrying About Pitching Staff

Connie Realizes That Chicago Cubs Can Slug Ball And May Ruin Brilliant Staff

SOUTHPAWS MAY BE EFFECTIVE

By HENRY McLEMORE
International News Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Connie Mack, reports have it, is making a determined search for a peacefully inclined centipede that can pitch.

And it's little wonder. For no sooner had the Athletics clinched the pennant than the press and public began telling Connie in a loud and raucous voice that his star left-handers Grove and Walberg would be devoured alive by the Cubs.

Convinced of this Connie began showing some trust in his right-handers, mainly Earnshaw. The press and public then began singing of the Cub's love for right-handers. So there was nothing else for the sage of the A's to do but locate some sort of animal that could mix them up—first a southerly shoot—then a northerly one. Hence, the centipede search.

May Use Southpaws.
But in the end Connie may come back to his southpaws. For he probably recalls what little success the three big men of the Cubs, Hornsby, Wilson and Cuyler, have had against southpaws in world series.

In 1926 the mighty Rajah had his opportunity against Pennock and Little fence repairing was needed at the Stadium after his departure. In 1925 Tom Zachary, then with Washington, made Wilson look a trifle foolish just as he did Cuyler. So maybe after all, Grove and Walberg won't spend all their time watching balls sail lither and yon.

Today, after a rest, all of the clubs save four will swing into action. Among the four remaining idle are the champions, Philadelphia and Chicago, who need the rest. Sympathy, not found in baseball in large quantities, will come to the surface today in Boston, where the New York Yankees, with their minds on their gallant little leader, Miller Huggins, will struggle through a game with Boston. Yesterday Washington opened a series against the White Sox, winning 7 to 6. St. Louis trimmed Cincinnati 6 to 4. These were the only two games scheduled in the majors.

Geneva Prepares For Allegheny In Season's Initial

Coach Mack Flenniken Having His Troubles; Several Promising Players Injured

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Sept. 24.—Mack Flenniken, and his Geneva gridders swing into the last stretch of the training grind preparing for the campaign opener this Saturday at Meadville, Pa., against the Crum coached Allegheny eleven.

The injured list of the Gold and White squad is now steadily mounting, those of the sidelines at present including Ransom, center, Goldberg, Turpin, and Stauffer, guards, Sole and Pliskain, ends, and Goss, full-back.

Joe Kelleher, promising freshman quarterback who was slated to do much of the punting for the Covenanters this season, has left the school following a mixup in entrance requirements. This added to the recent loss of eight gridders causes a worrying note to pervade the Geneva campus.

A scrimmage session between the varsity and the scrubs was held yesterday with the first stringers piling up a convincing total. The backfield of Knapp, Preece, Tenerario, and Ewing is working in harmony and should go well against any team in the district this year. The line is often riddled with substitutions and its makeup for Saturday is uncertain. Geneva enthusiasts are aroused over this game and a large host of rooters will accompany the team.

The greener they are the more harshly they condemn the snow in order to appear sophisticated.

THE New PACKARD STANDARD EIGHTS

offer the outstanding luxury, comfort and engineering improvements which the world expects from Packard

THE new Packard Standard Eights offer important engineering advances and greatly enriched fittings and appointments. They are more beautiful, more convenient, more luxurious than ever before.

These superb cars, outstanding in the fine car field, are now on display at our show rooms. We want you to see them—drive them and then compare them point by point with your ideal of what a truly fine car ought to be.

You will find that they differ from the costlier Packards only in size, power and degree of individuality available in color, upholstery and details of appointment. For the new Standard Eights are Packards through and through—distinguished, smooth and fleet.

Eleven Roomy and Luxurious Models

The new Packard Standard Eight line includes eleven beautiful body types. Prices at the factory range from $2375 for the popular Five-Passenger Sedan to $2775 for the Seven-Passenger Sedan-Limousine.

All models embody the new inside, adjustable sun visors, adjustable driver's seat and steering gear, newly-perfected shatter-proof glass, dashboard lockers—and the improved powerplant with its four-speed transmission and still further refined Packard straight-eight engine.

Packard Transportation Costs No More

If you want a new Packard Standard Eight there is no reason why you should not have it. Operation and maintenance costs are not greater because first cost is more. Even if first cost is twice as much, final cost is no greater if the better car is driven twice as long.

Analyze ownership costs in the light of these facts and you will find that you, too, can enjoy the luxury of Packard transportation—at no greater expense.

Thousands of motorists have found this true. Two out of three who buy Packard Standard Eights give up other makes of cars to do so!

We cordially invite you to see the new Packard Standard Eights—and to drive one. We will gladly explain the costs of ownership, so that you can compare them with your present motoring expenses. Your old car will be accepted as cash, and you may buy out of income if you prefer.

Annual Meeting Will Be Held In Legion Home Building This Evening

Election of officers will be held by the Perry S. Gaston post No. 343, American Legion, when an entirely new set of officials will be selected to guide the destinies of the post during the coming year.

Nominations will be held open until the hour of election this evening, but it is unlikely that any new candidates will be named, officers having been nominated by the various post membership at their meeting two weeks ago.

Those who have been nominated for the various posts are as follows: Commander—Paul A. Welsh and H. H. Rosenblum.

Senior vice commander—Guy Wadlinger and Charles E. Allen.

Junior vice commander—J. Glenn Berry.

Historian—Harold Blewit.

Post finance officer—Alfonso H. Robb.

Chaplain—Bernard Hook.

Trustee—Ivor H. Davis.

Sergeant at arms—Addison Caruthers.

Following the election, the newly elected post commander will name the adjutant to serve during the coming year, while the naming of committees will be held over until a later meeting.

Installation of officers will take place at the first meeting in October.

Smith Recounts Horrors Of War

Describes Experiences Which He Had That Won Him Recognition

George L. Smith, member of the New Castle Lions club and recipient of the distinguished D. S. C. medal for bravery in time of battle, told the Lions club today what experiences he went through that ultimately led to the honor. Smith spoke on the invitation of the club.

Business featured the meeting today and one new member was installed. J. P. Powers, new manager of the Personal Finance company of this city, was formally inducted into membership.

A chicken dinner with all the trimmings was enjoyed by 10 selected members of the club who have given worthy service to the organization during the past few months. The dinner was in recognition of their efforts.

Asks Death Penalty For Samuel Crane

State's Attorney Asks Jury To Send Former Ball Player To Electric Chair

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Sept. 24.—The death penalty for Samuel "Red" Crane, one time hero of the big league baseball diamonds, was asked here today by Prosecutor Robert T. Fox, opening the state's case at Crane's trial for the murder of Miss Della Lyter.

Crane, dressed in the tan suit and gray hat he wore when first brought to trial, sat quietly while Fox described the state's version of the killing of Miss Lyter and John D. Oren, the successful rival of Crane, in a hotel here August 3.

The jury which was completed in the session of court yesterday afternoon, is composed of four women and eight men.

Pearl Dando Found Not Guilty By Jury

Jury Places The Costs On Matthew Mush, Prosecutor In The Case

Mrs. Pearl Dando, who was charged with perjury by Matthew Mush, was found not guilty by a jury which returned a verdict Monday afternoon. The costs were placed on the prosecutor, Matthew Mush.

The case was taken up before Judge Chambers last week, the jury trying it being held over until it was completed this week. The case grew out of testimony offered by Pearl Dando in the trial of Mush on a narcotic charge at a former term of court. Mush claimed that Mrs. Dando gave false testimony at that trial. This she denied and as a result was vindicated by the jury. Mush made an application for a new trial, which is still pending, in the narcotic case against him.

Immense Laundry

Is Hospital Aid

New Machinery In Jameson Memorial Hospital Is Working Well

One of the important features of a hospital that is not connected with materia medica or surgery, but which is nevertheless important, is the laundry. Well laundered uniforms and linens in a hospital add to the appearance of it and mean much to the impression one gains of it.

The Jameson Memorial hospital laundry equipment is in line with the other equipment of the institution, complete and modern, and the work being turned out there would delight any housewife, meticulous though she may be.

A. L. Taylor in Charge

The laundry is in charge of A. L. Taylor, a man of wide experience, who was at one time the owner and proprietor of the Central Laundry. Under his supervision the laundry is functioning perfectly and the piles of well laundered sheets, uniforms and linens demonstrate the manner in which the work is being done.

The two electric washers are large and are operated on a time clock arrangement. After the clothes have been through the washer they are put into a machine which expels the water from them by centrifugal force. When they come out of this machine they are still damp enough to be put through the huge mangle.

This mangle is about eight feet across and frons the linens on both sides. A girl feeds the clothes in on one side and after they go through they are taken off by a girl on the other side, ironed and glossed as well as could be done by hand.

Virginia Smith Is

Acquitted By Jury

In the case of the commonwealth against Virginia Smith, who was charged with felonious assault and battery on Aaron Thomas, and which was tried before Judge Hildebrand, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty and divided the costs equally between the prosecutor and the defendant.

The case was one in which Miss Smith, a former sweetheart of Thomas, was alleged to have stabbed Thomas over the left eye with a pocket knife.

Art Experts Are

Selecting Best

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24.—Thoughts of American artists were turned toward Pittsburgh today where an international jury of selection is choosing 37 paintings out of 408 submitted for exhibition at the twenty-eighth international scheduled for October.

The American committee includes Maurice Stern, Leon Kroll, Charles Hopkinson, Guy Gene Du Bois and Felice Waldo Howell.

European members of the jury of awards include Wladyslaw Jarocki, Poland; Dunoyer De Segonzac, France and Vivian Forbes, England.

Doctors Register

At New Hospital

Can Tell At Once Whether Or Not Doctors Are In Building

It is no trouble to find out if a physician who is wanted, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital. As they enter the hospital, there is a call board, on which the names of the doctors are inserted. As the doctor goes by he throws a small switch on his slot and his name is lighted by a small light in back of the name.

Not only does this show in the corridor, but a duplicate of the board is in the business office. When a certain doctor is wanted it is an easy matter to look at the board and ascertain if he is there.

Reveal Shearer

Had To Borrow

Unofficial Observer To Arms Conference Received $25,000

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—William B. Shearer, the "observer and reporter" who got $25,000 from three American shipbuilders to attend the 1937 Geneva disarmament conference, was "broke" in 1938 and borrowed $2,000 from the Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock company, Homer L. Ferguson, president, told the senate naval sub-committee today.

Ferguson, recalled to the stand after a two-hour grilling late yesterday, said his vice president, Frederick P. Palen, arranged the loan to Shearer and that he approved vouchers for it August 2, 1938. The company holds three notes from Shearer, he said, two for $500 each payable to Palen and one to himself for $1,000.

False Alarm Is

Sounded At Noon

Four pieces of apparatus were called to the corner of County Line and East Washington streets at noon today by a false alarm.

A man called the central department, stating that there was a fire at that location, and No. 4 department, with the three trucks from central station, answered. They were unable to find even a trace of smoke when they arrived at the scene.

Union Team In

Scrimmage Today

Prepares To Open Season's Schedule; First Game Is Away

Preparatory to opening their schedule of seven games, the Union high school varsity squad will scrimmage with Coach LeRoy Norton's Ben Franklin gridder at the Franklin field this afternoon. The drill will mark Union's first real scrimmage of the year.

Union opens its season on October 4 when they journey to Harrisville to meet the high school of that place. The first home game will be played October 11 with Shermange furnishing the opposition that day.

Coach D. M. Boyd of Union has expressed favorable prospects for this year's eleven although but three lettermen remain to play this year.

MAY FIX LAUREL

SIGNAL TODAY

Councilman Tyler reported today he had received a telegram stating that C. K. Koonitz, of the Arnold company, which installed traffic lights on north hill would be here this afternoon. Tyler requested an engineer be sent here to fix the Laurel-Highland light, so it can be operated with a hand control during times when school children cross the avenue.
